

REBUILD

WITH

MOON BEAMS

by Sean Tierney

for Etak Adnama

IF your treehouse falls down...

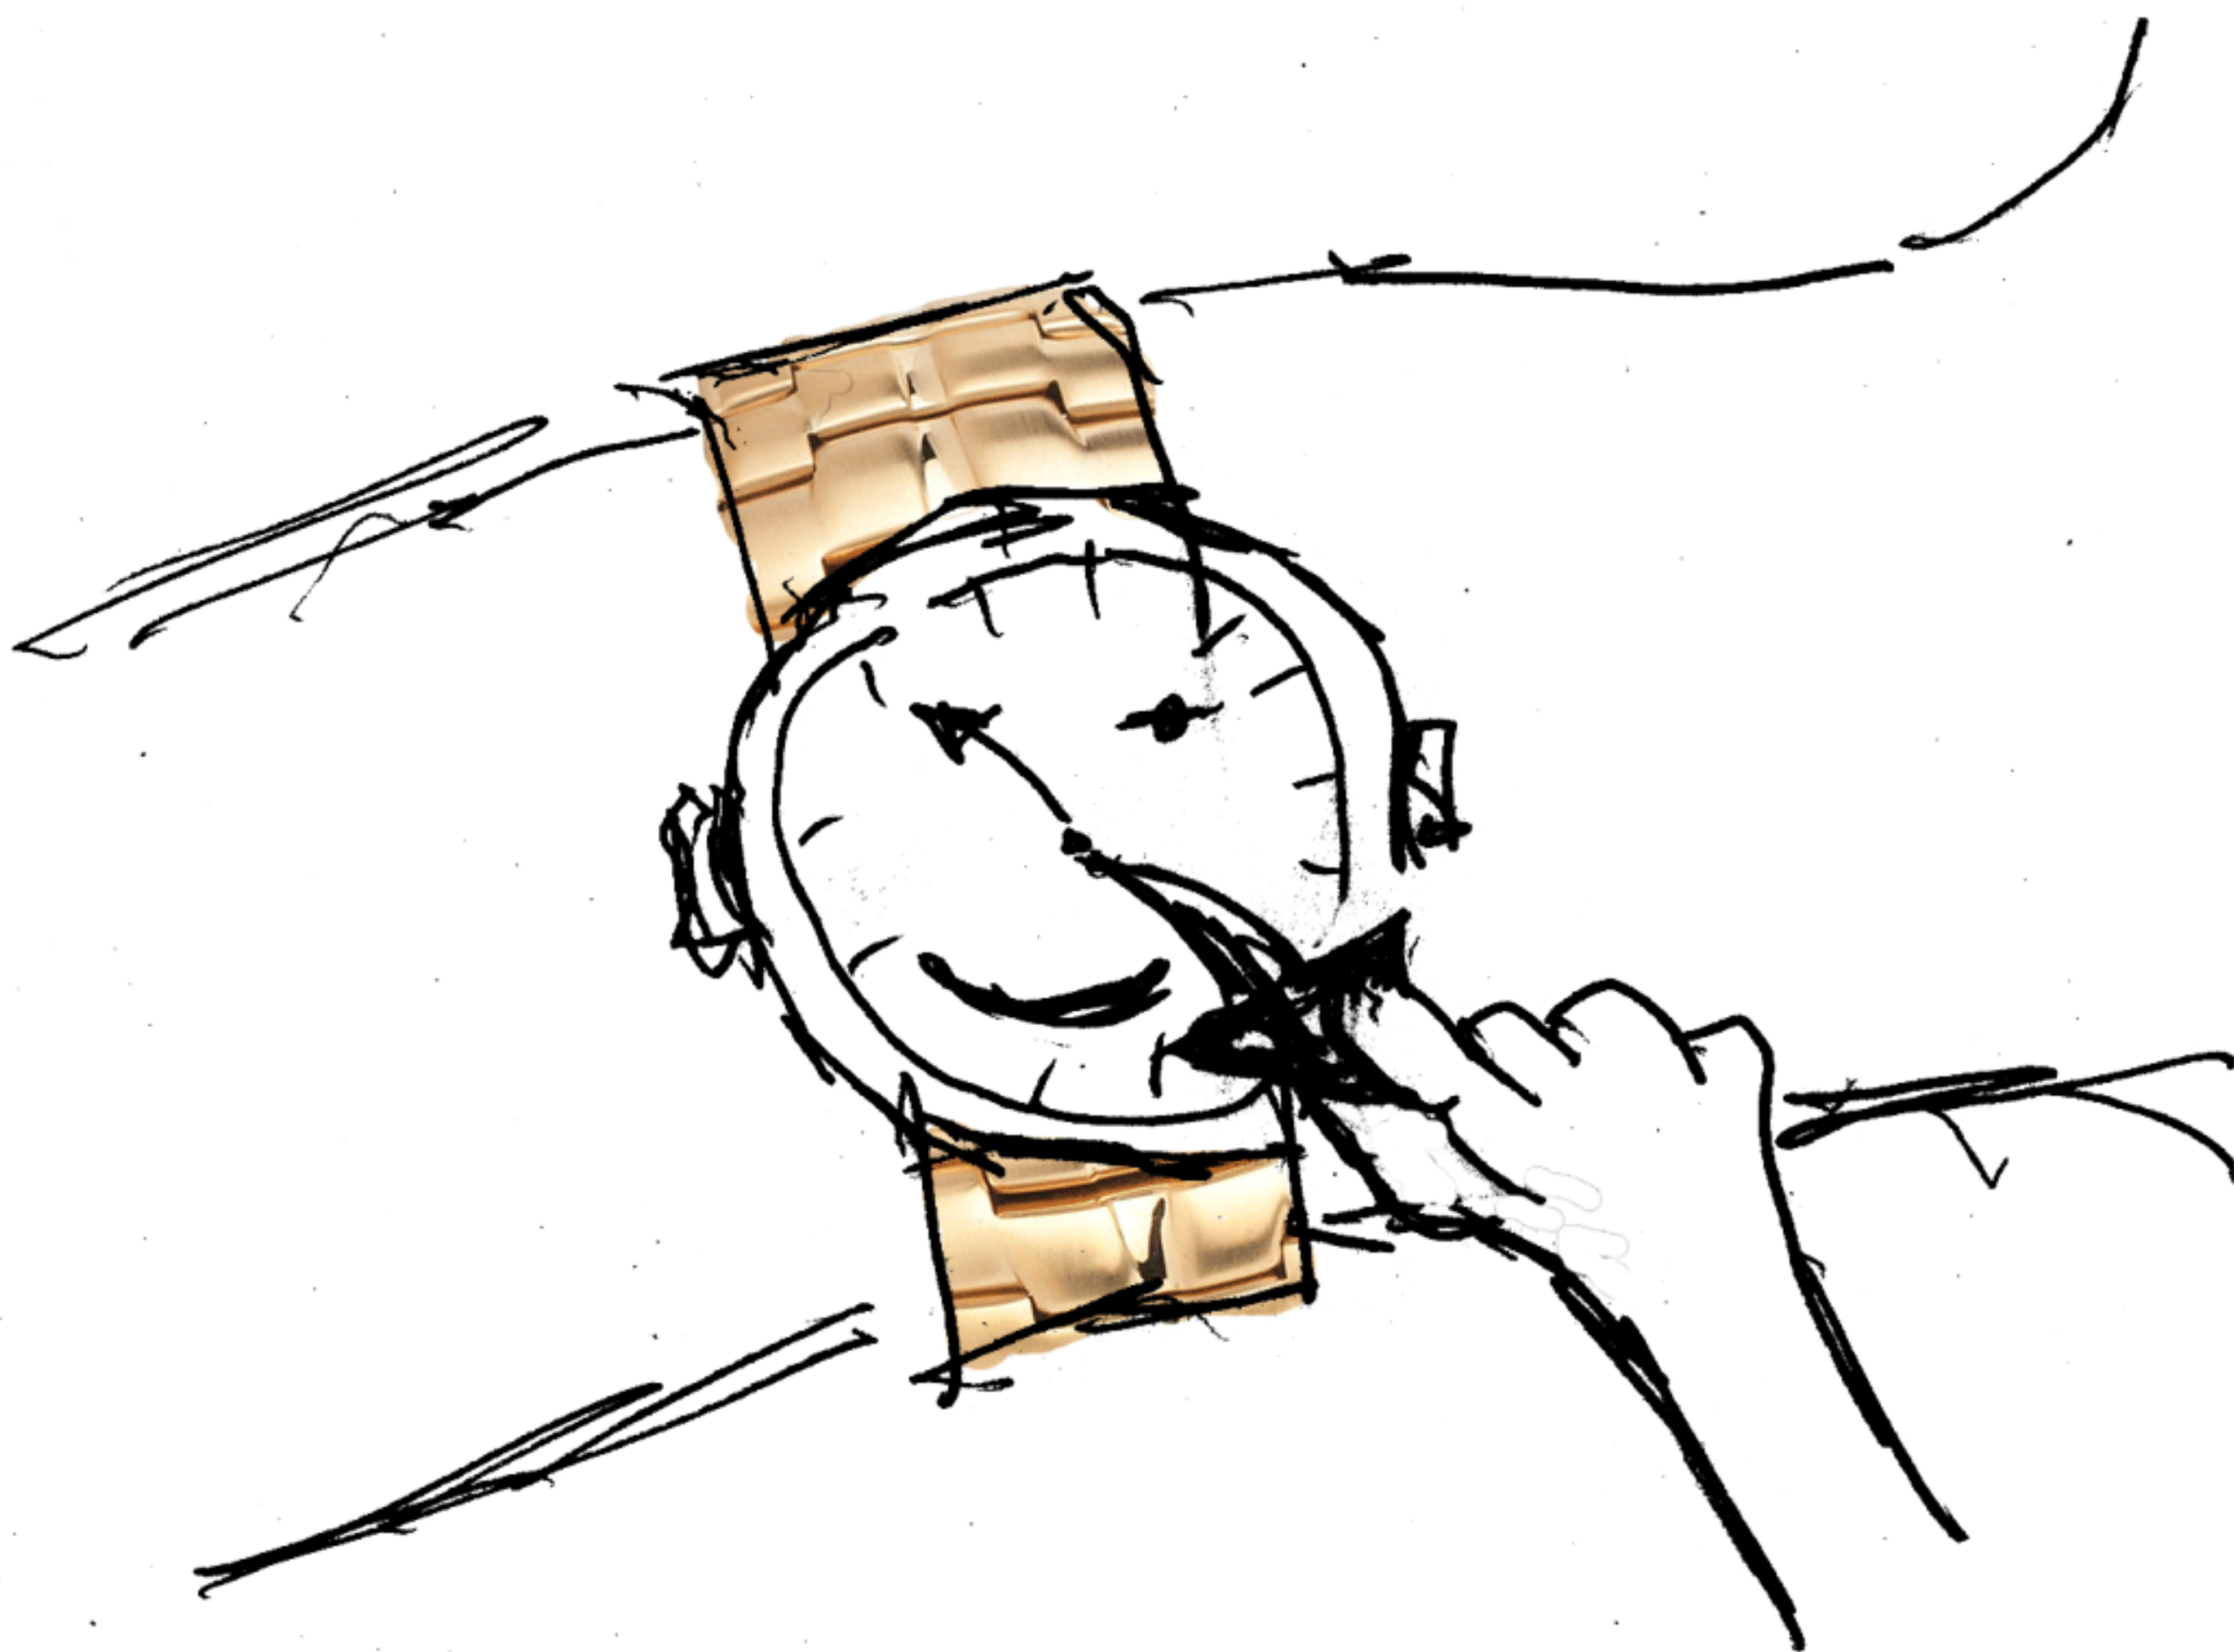

Rebuild it with moonbeams.

IF you lose your friends in a crowd...

Hold hands with a clock face

IF onions make you cry on

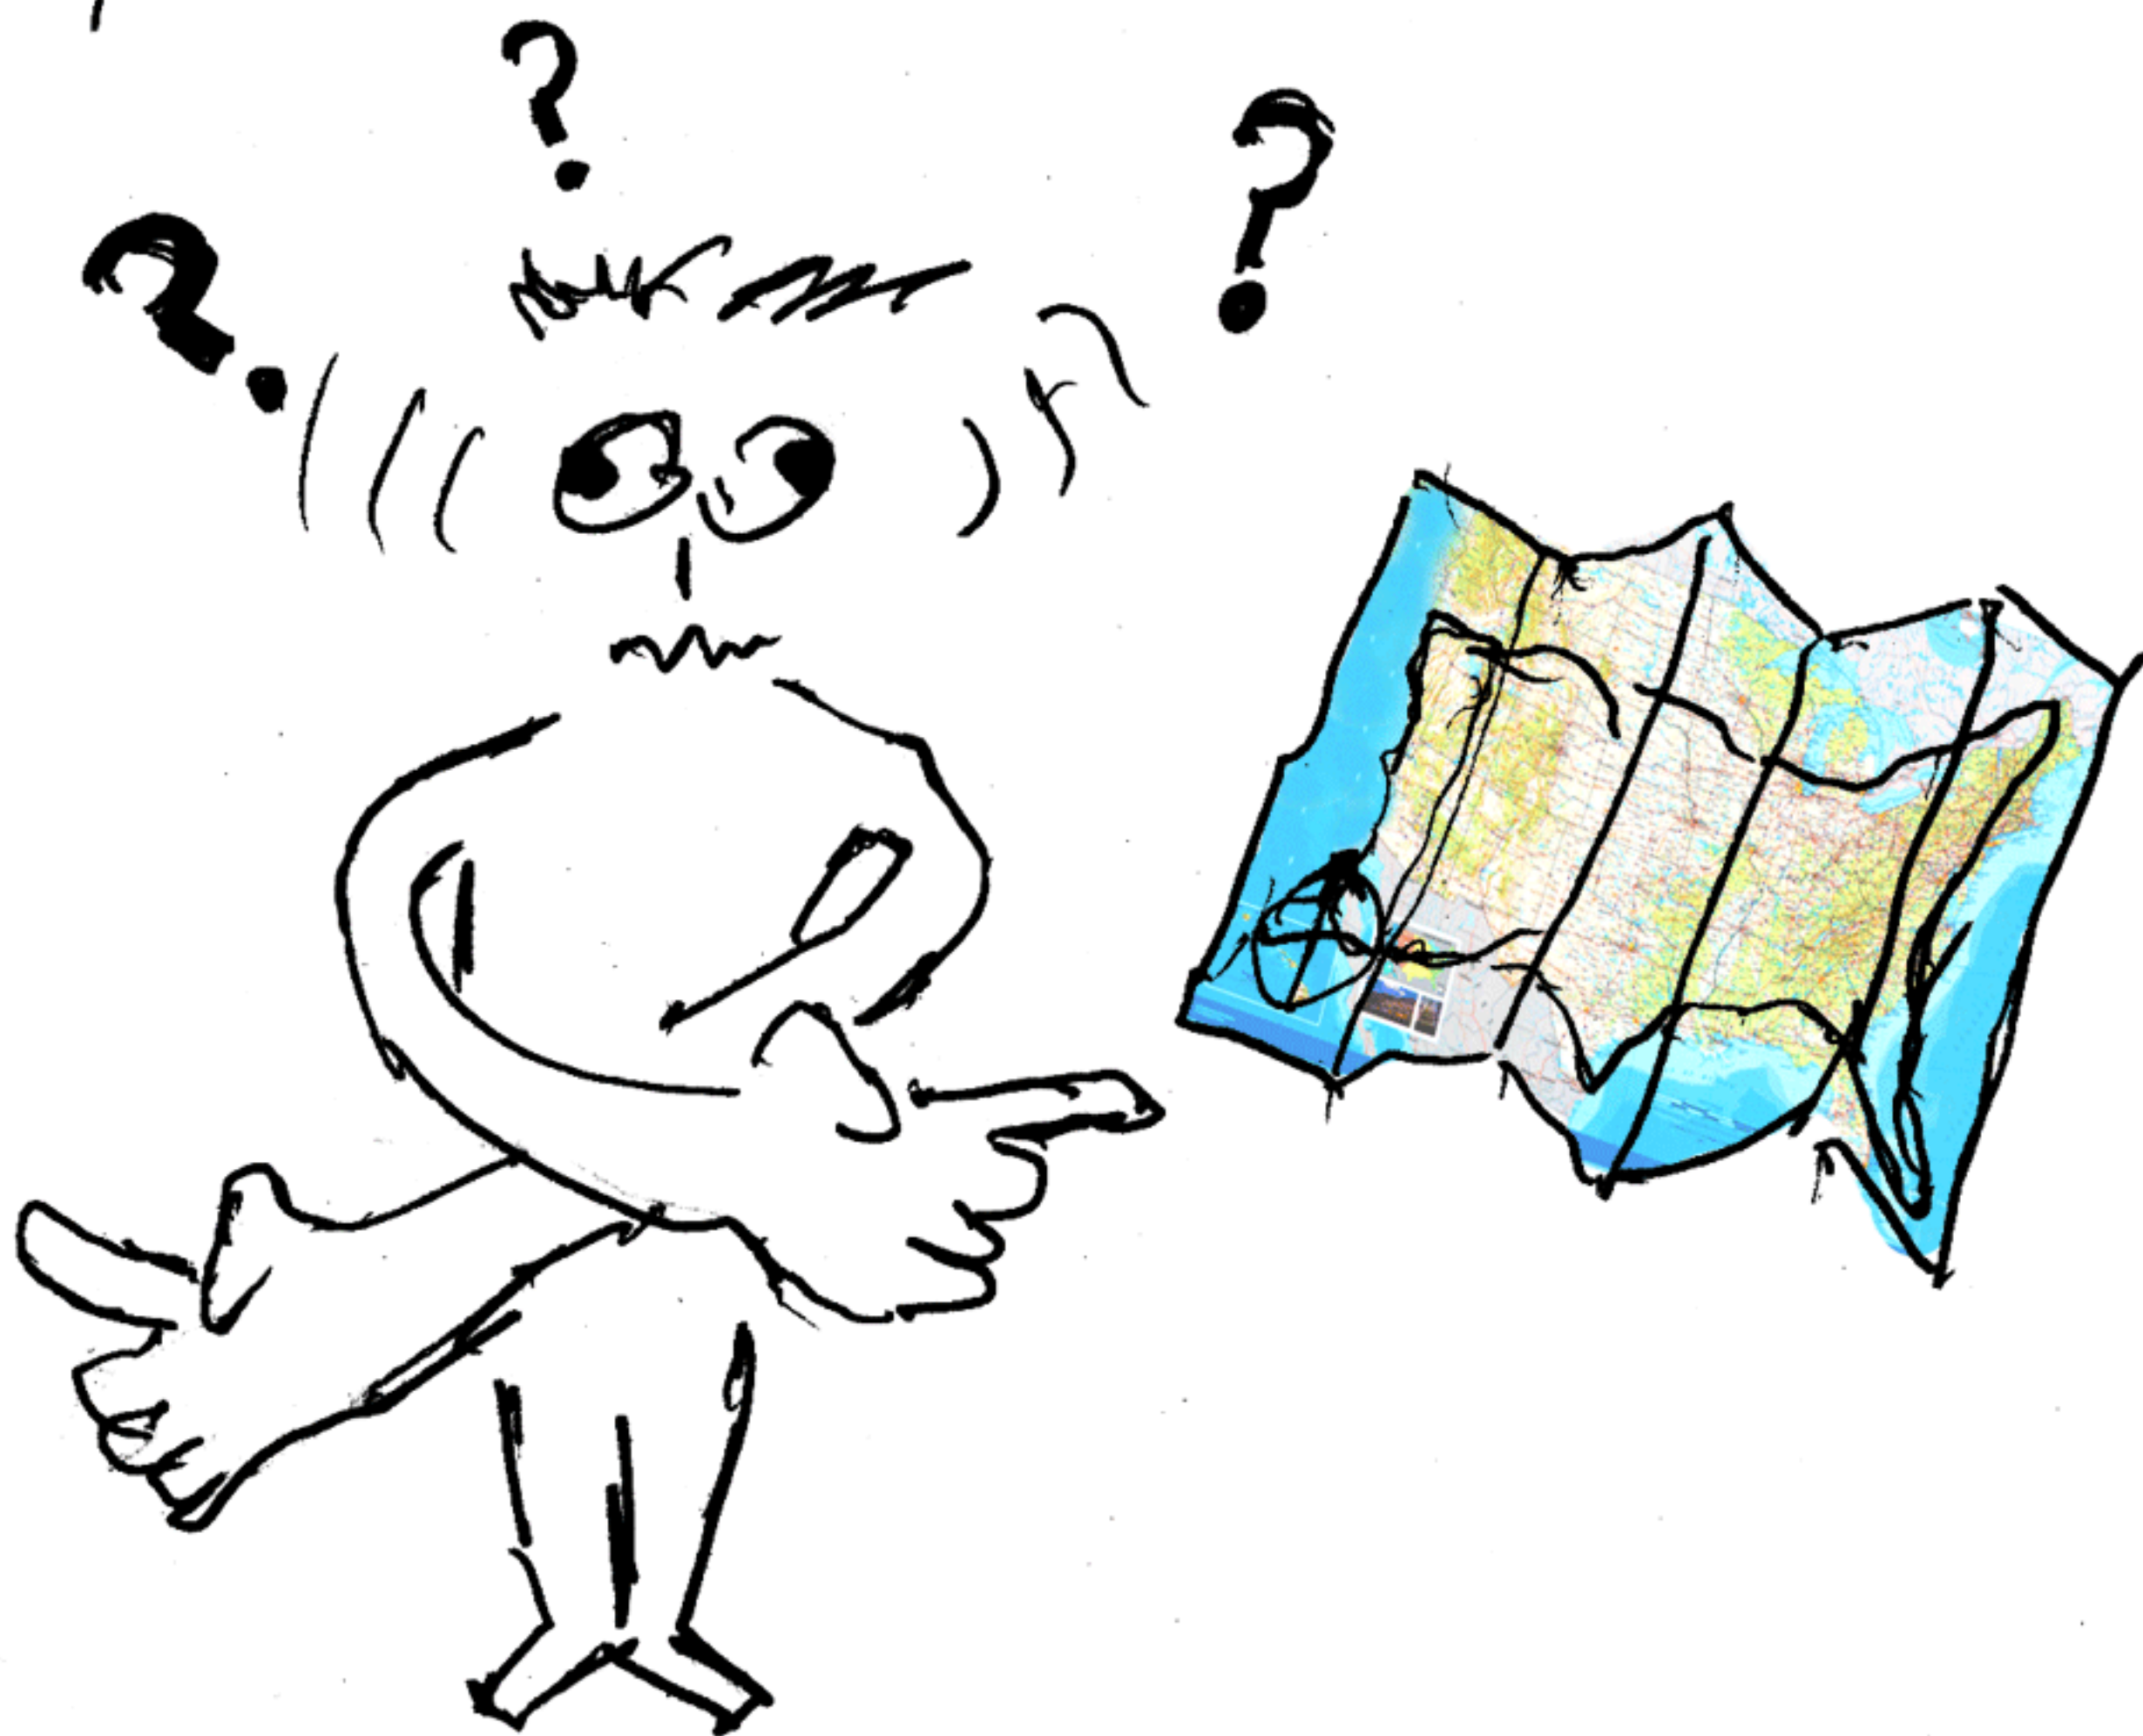

Wm

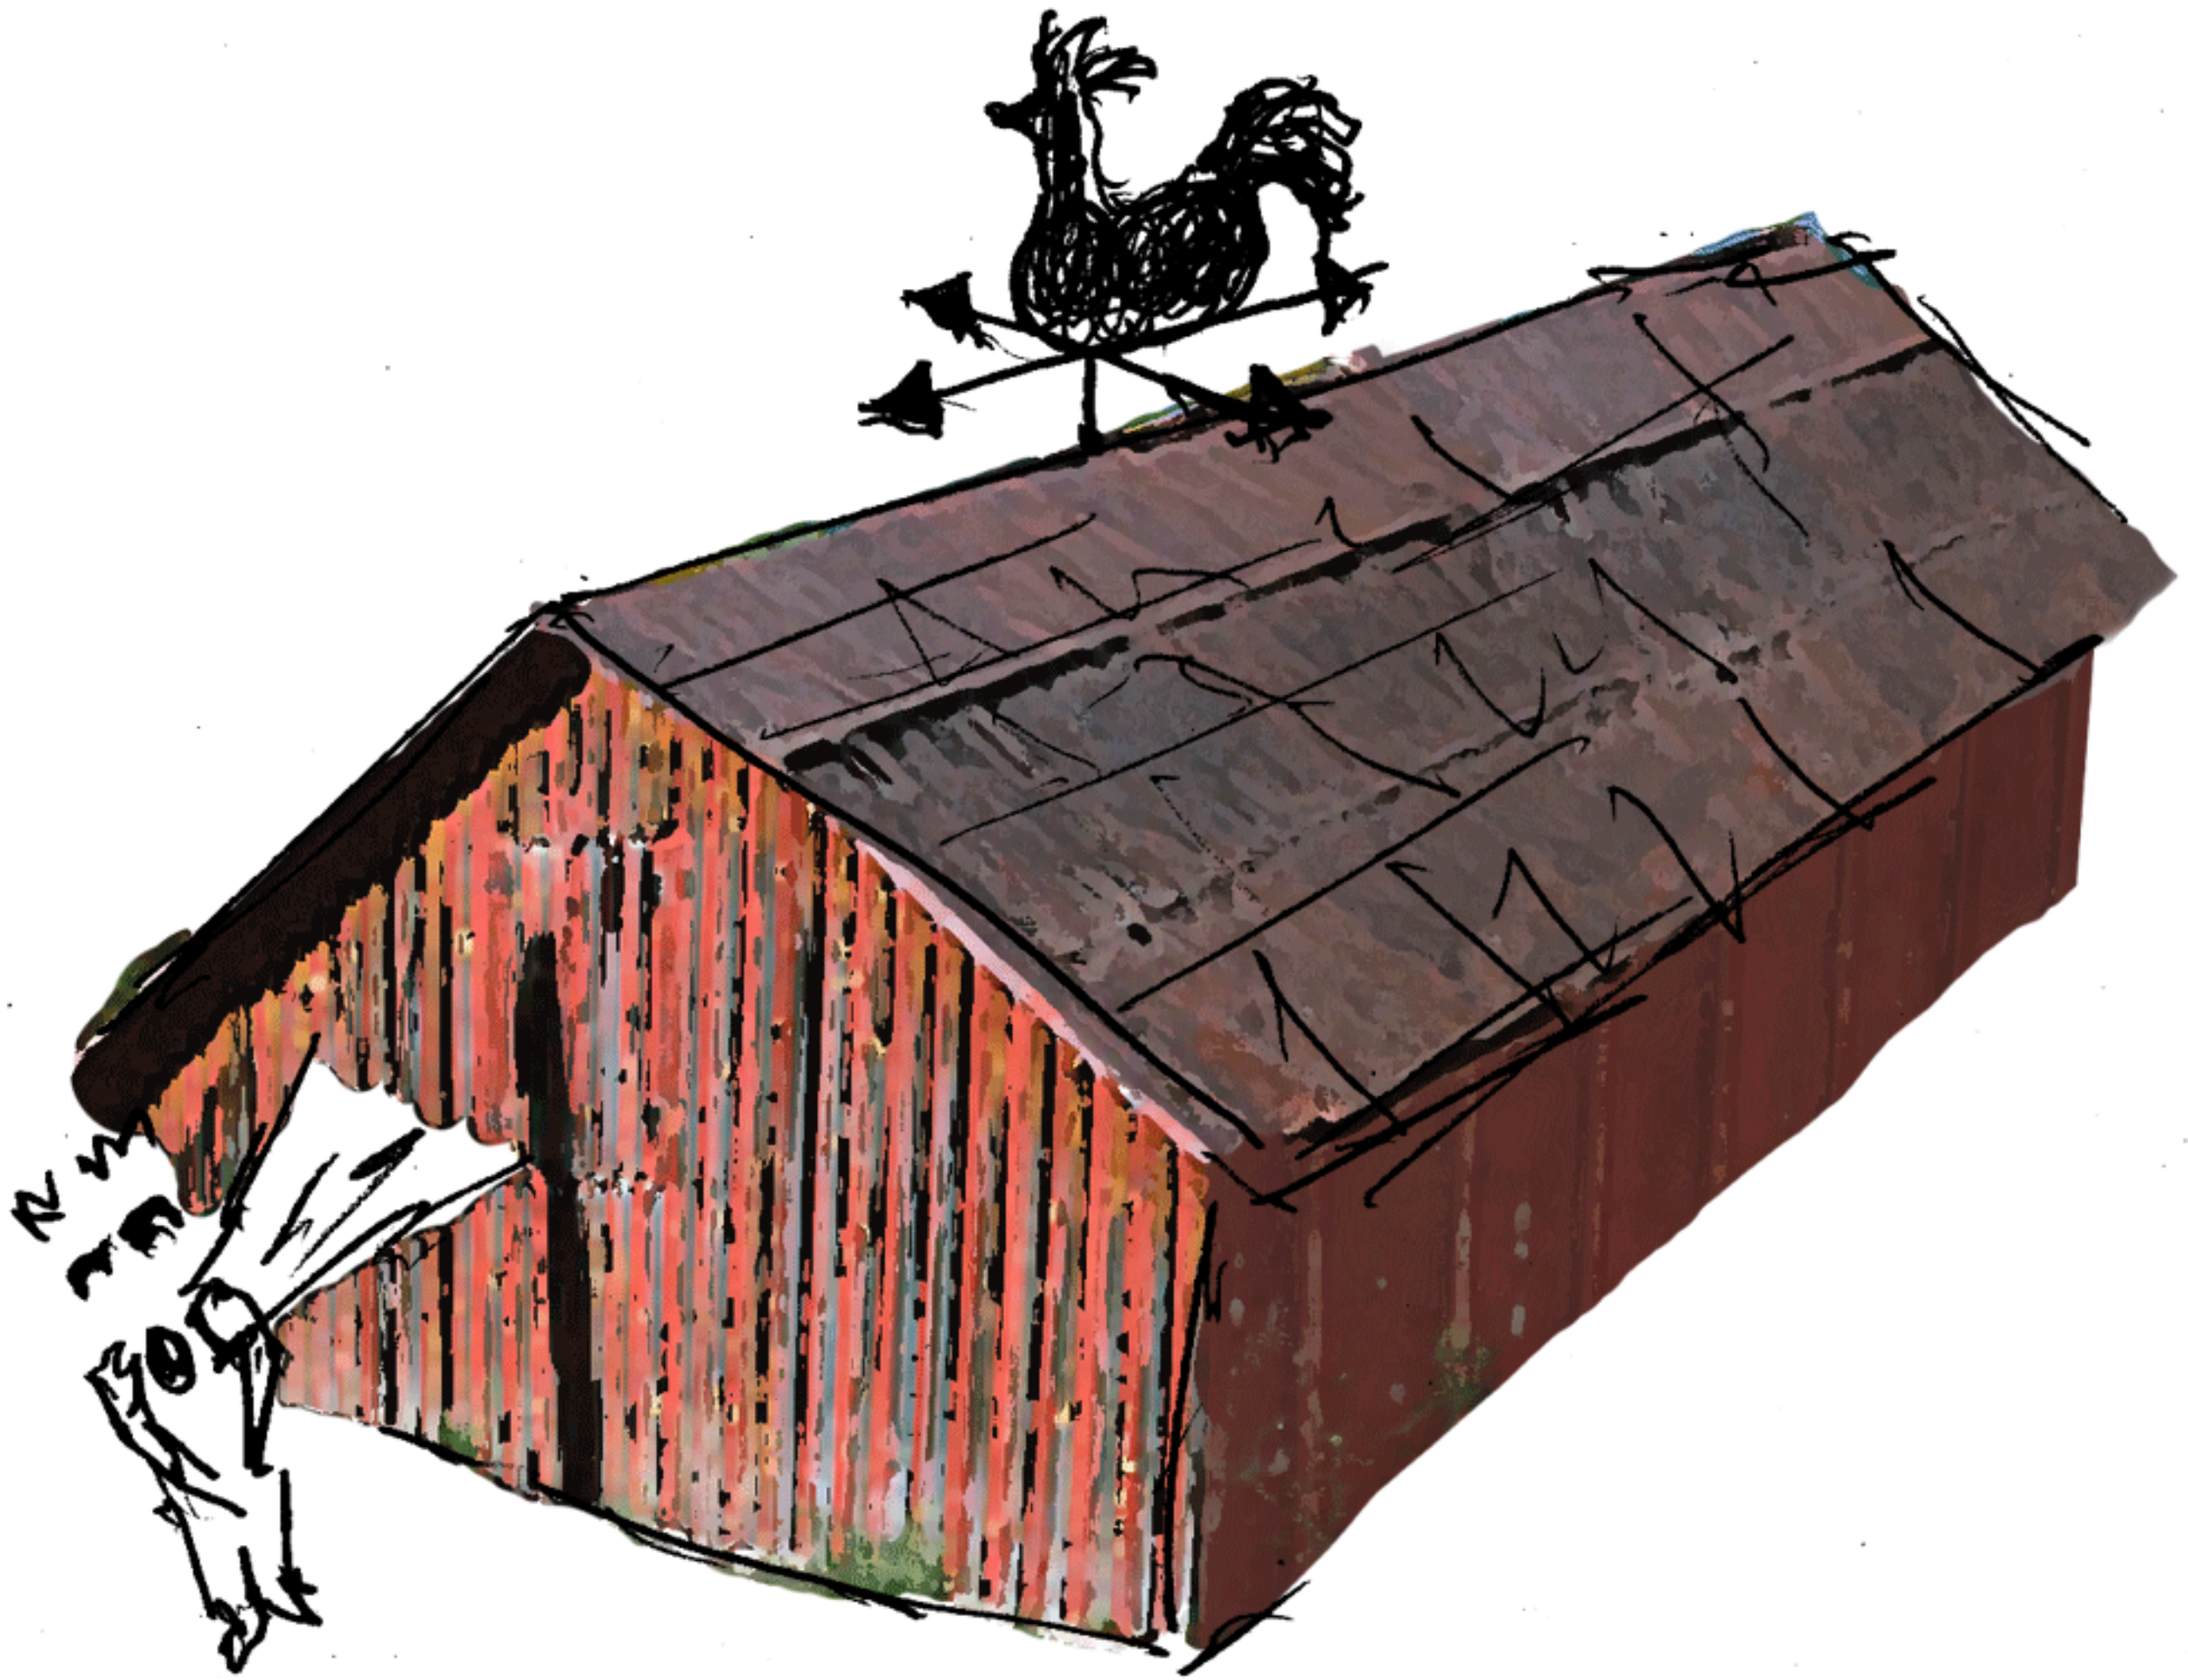

Dab your tears with cotton candy

IF

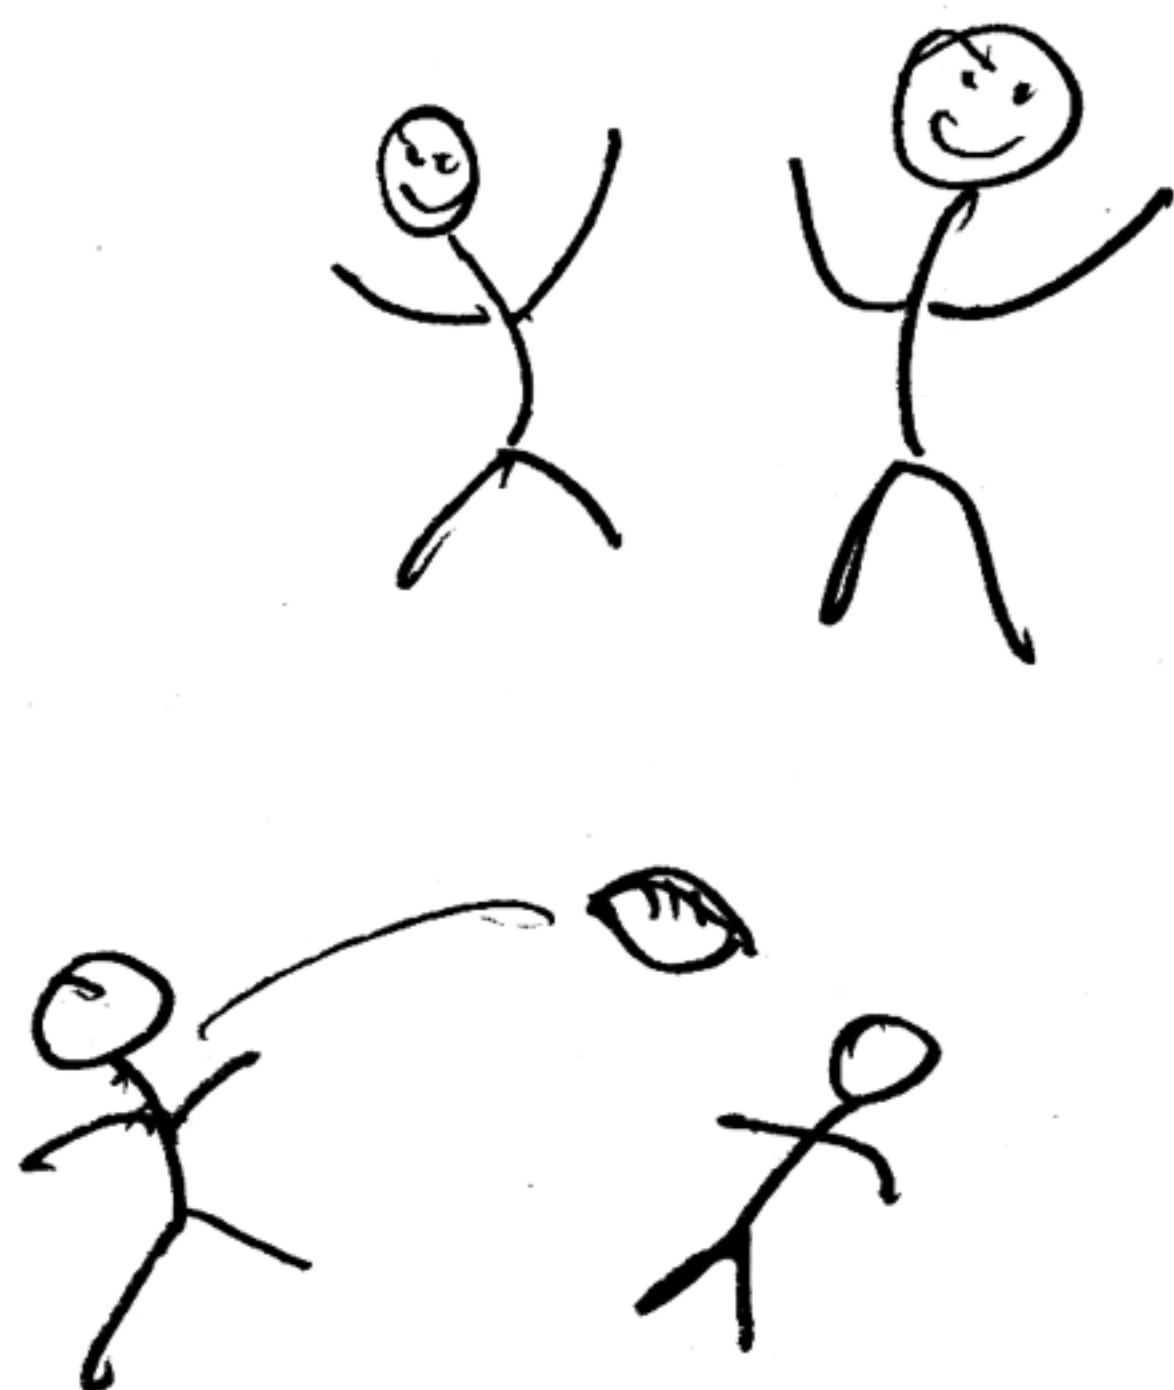

you need directions...

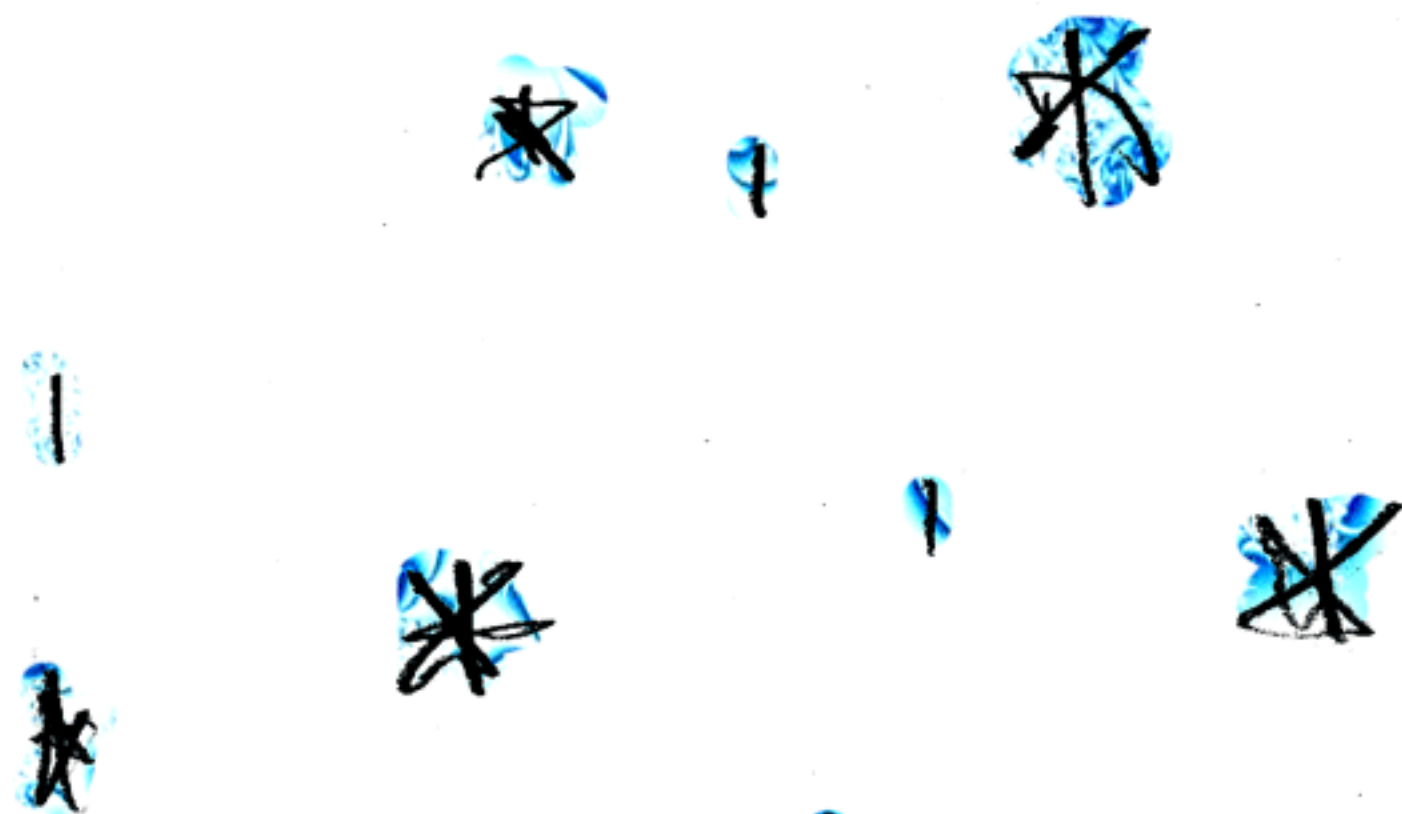

Ask the rooster on the weather vane.

IF you feel different from everybody...

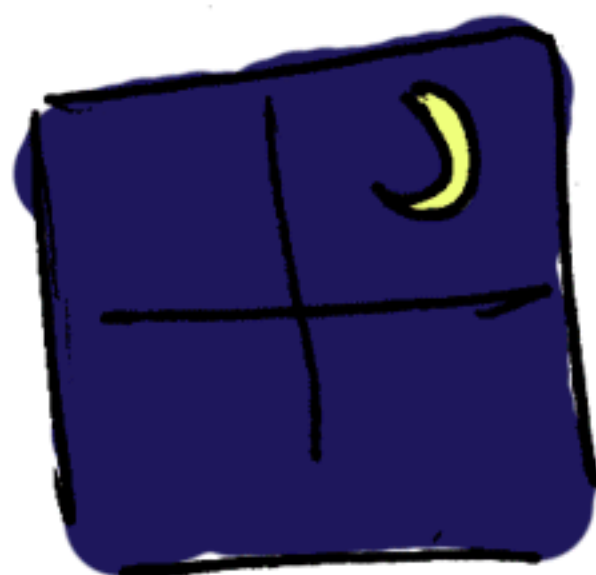

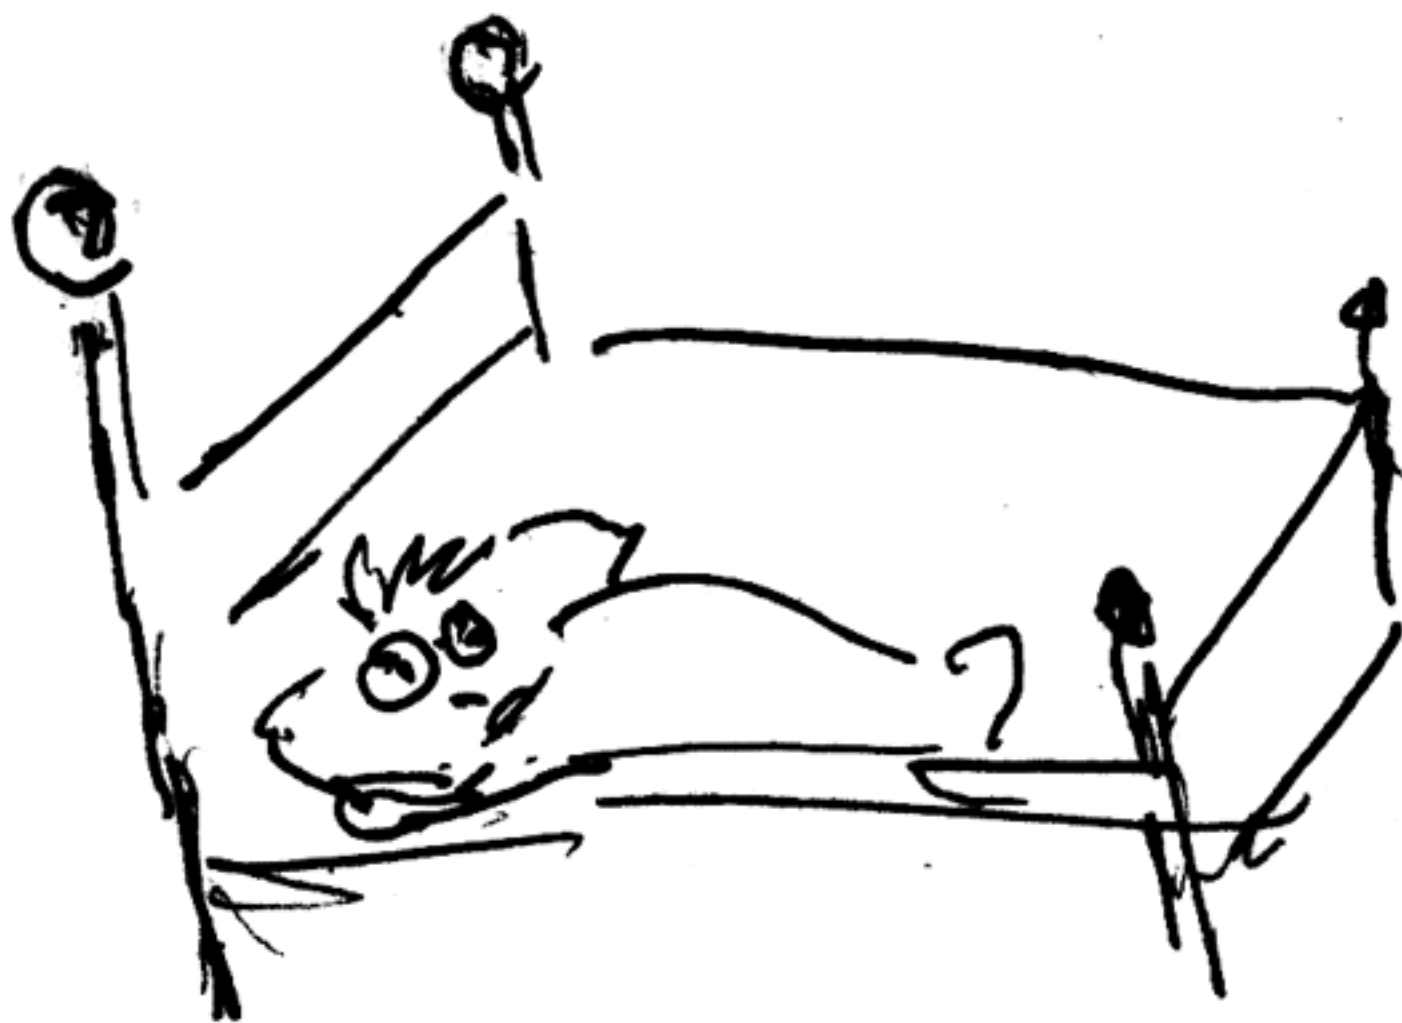

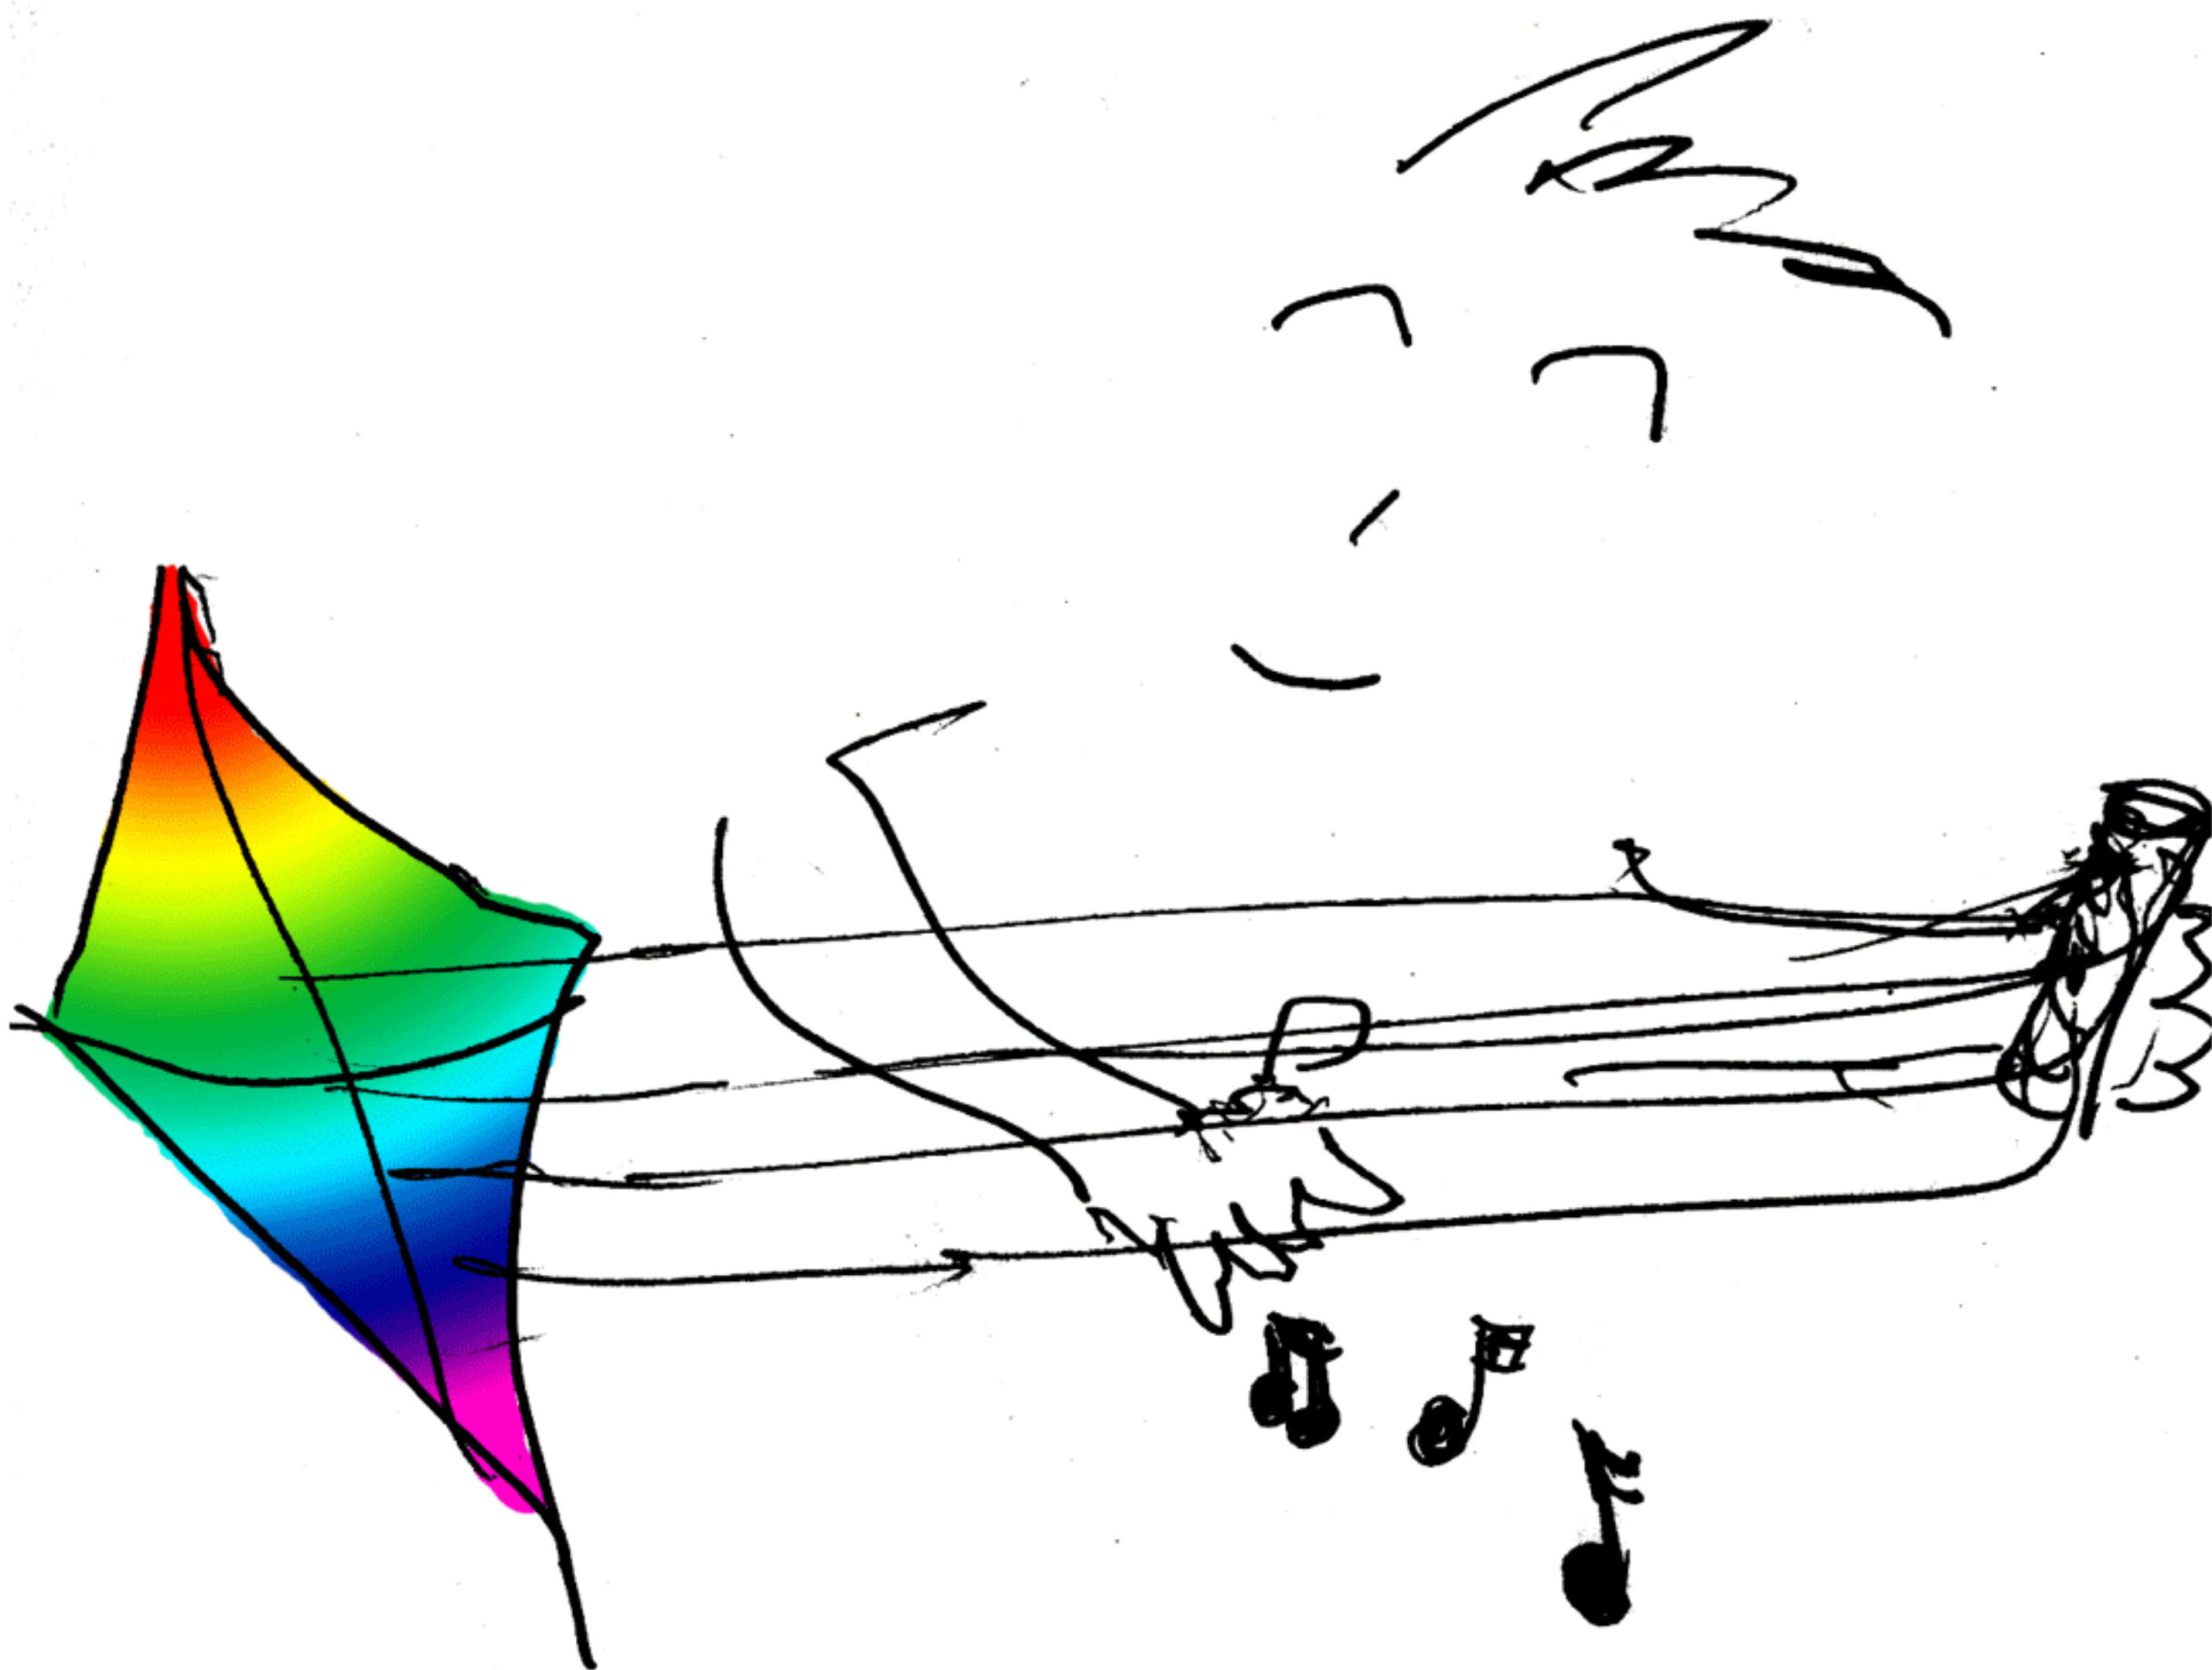

Ask a snowflake's advice

IF

you can't fall asleep...

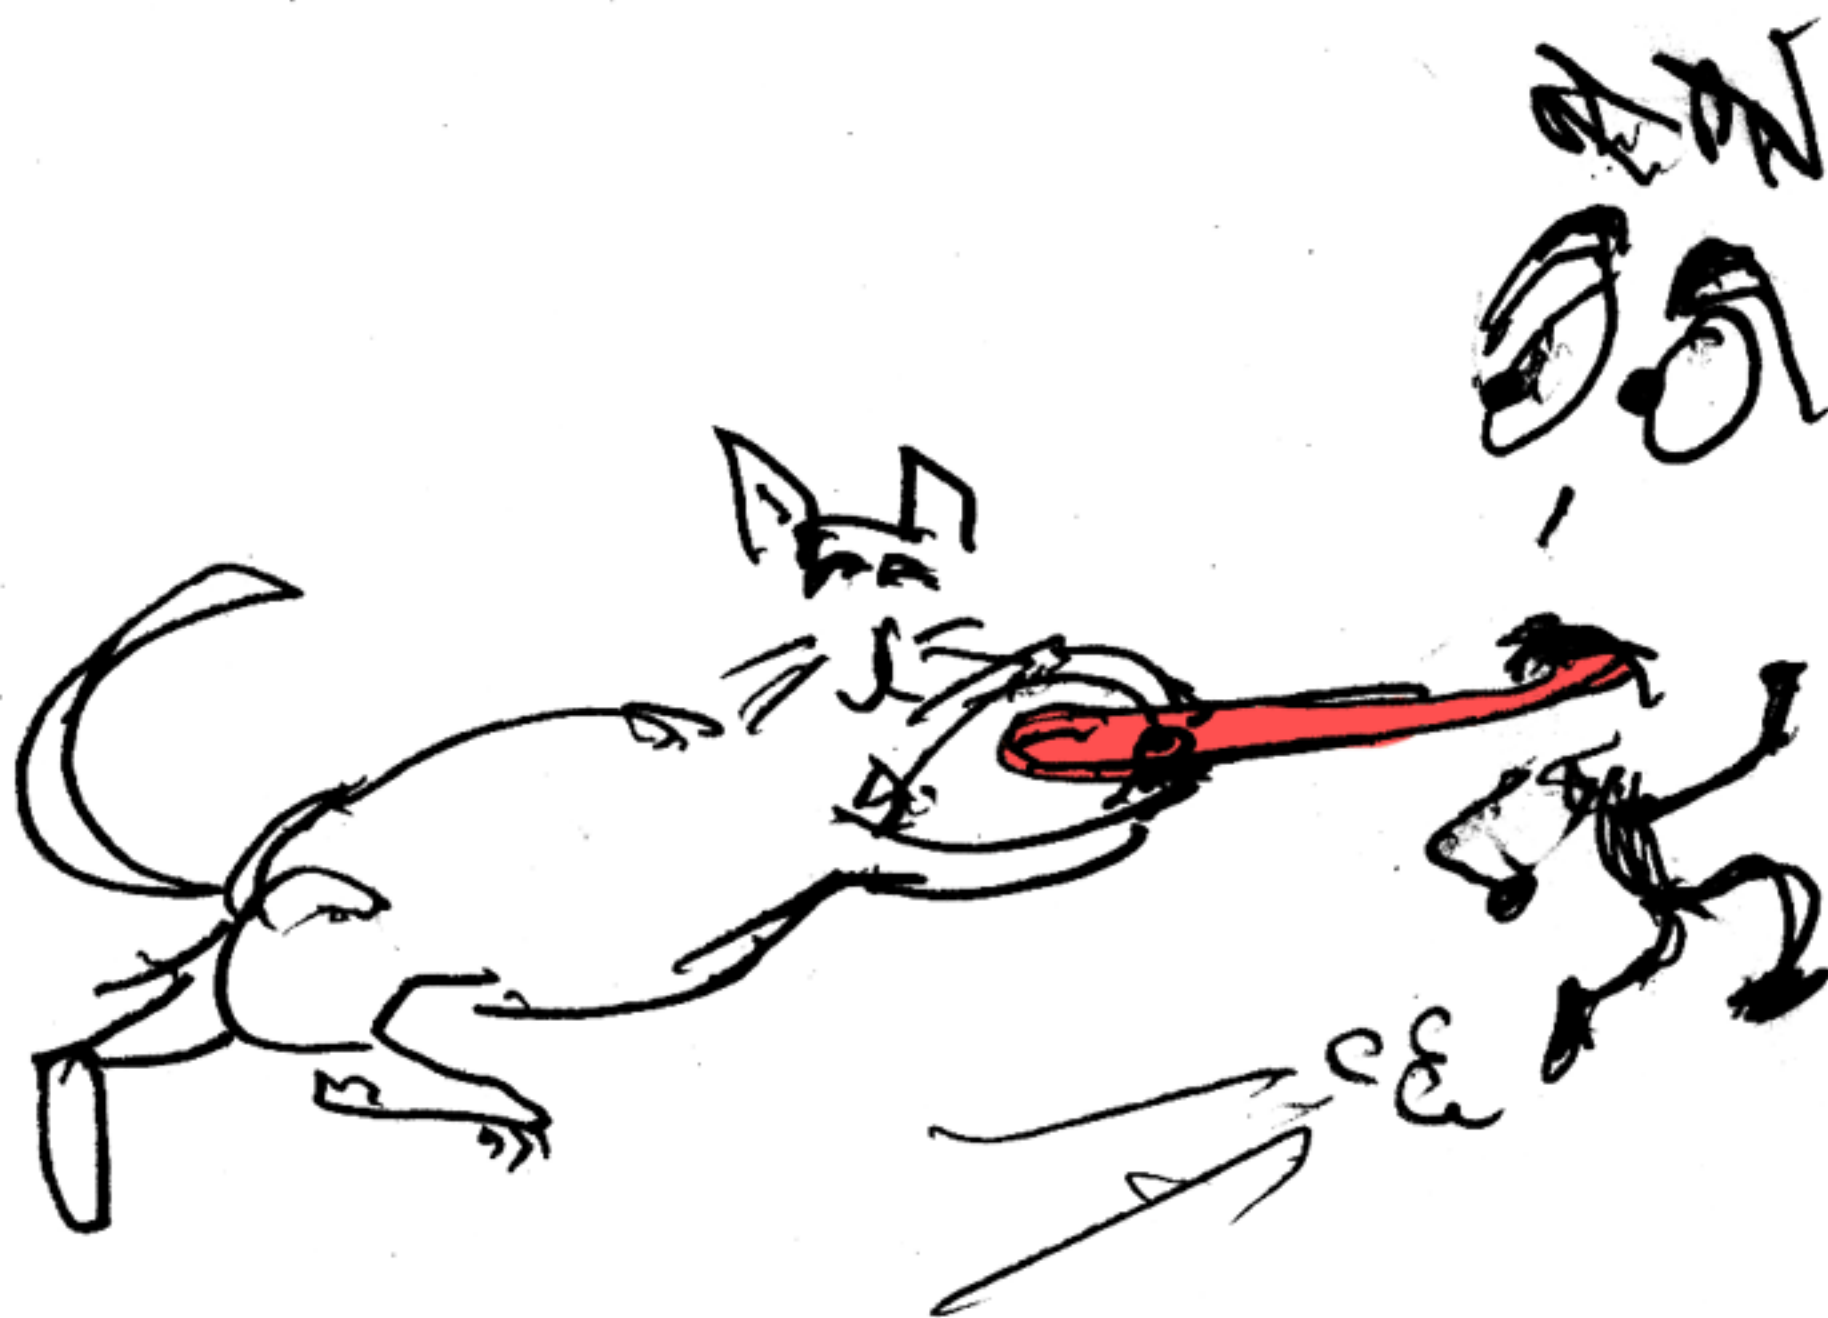

Strum a lullaby on kite strings.

IF

the cat gets your tongue...

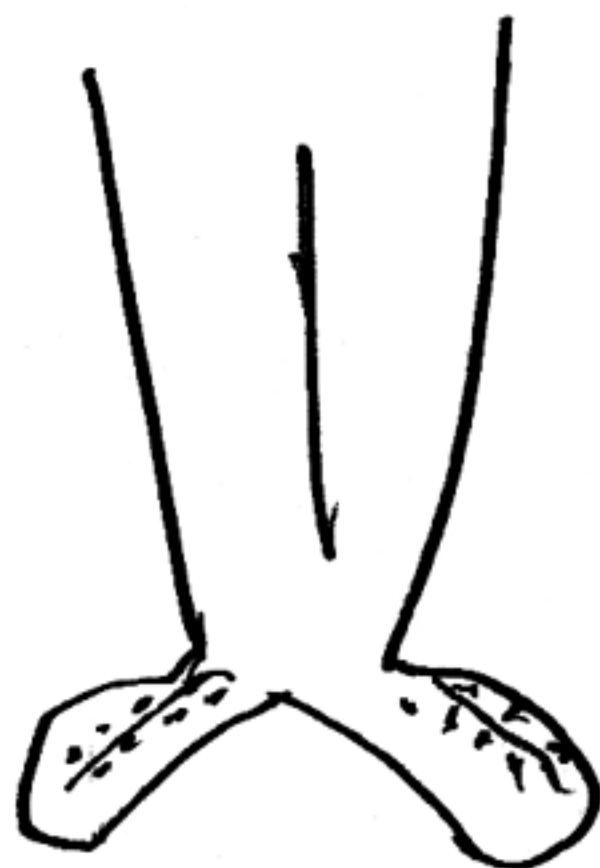

Write stories to its kittens.

IF

your shoes lose their laces...

Tie them with string beans.

IF

you can't catch your breath...

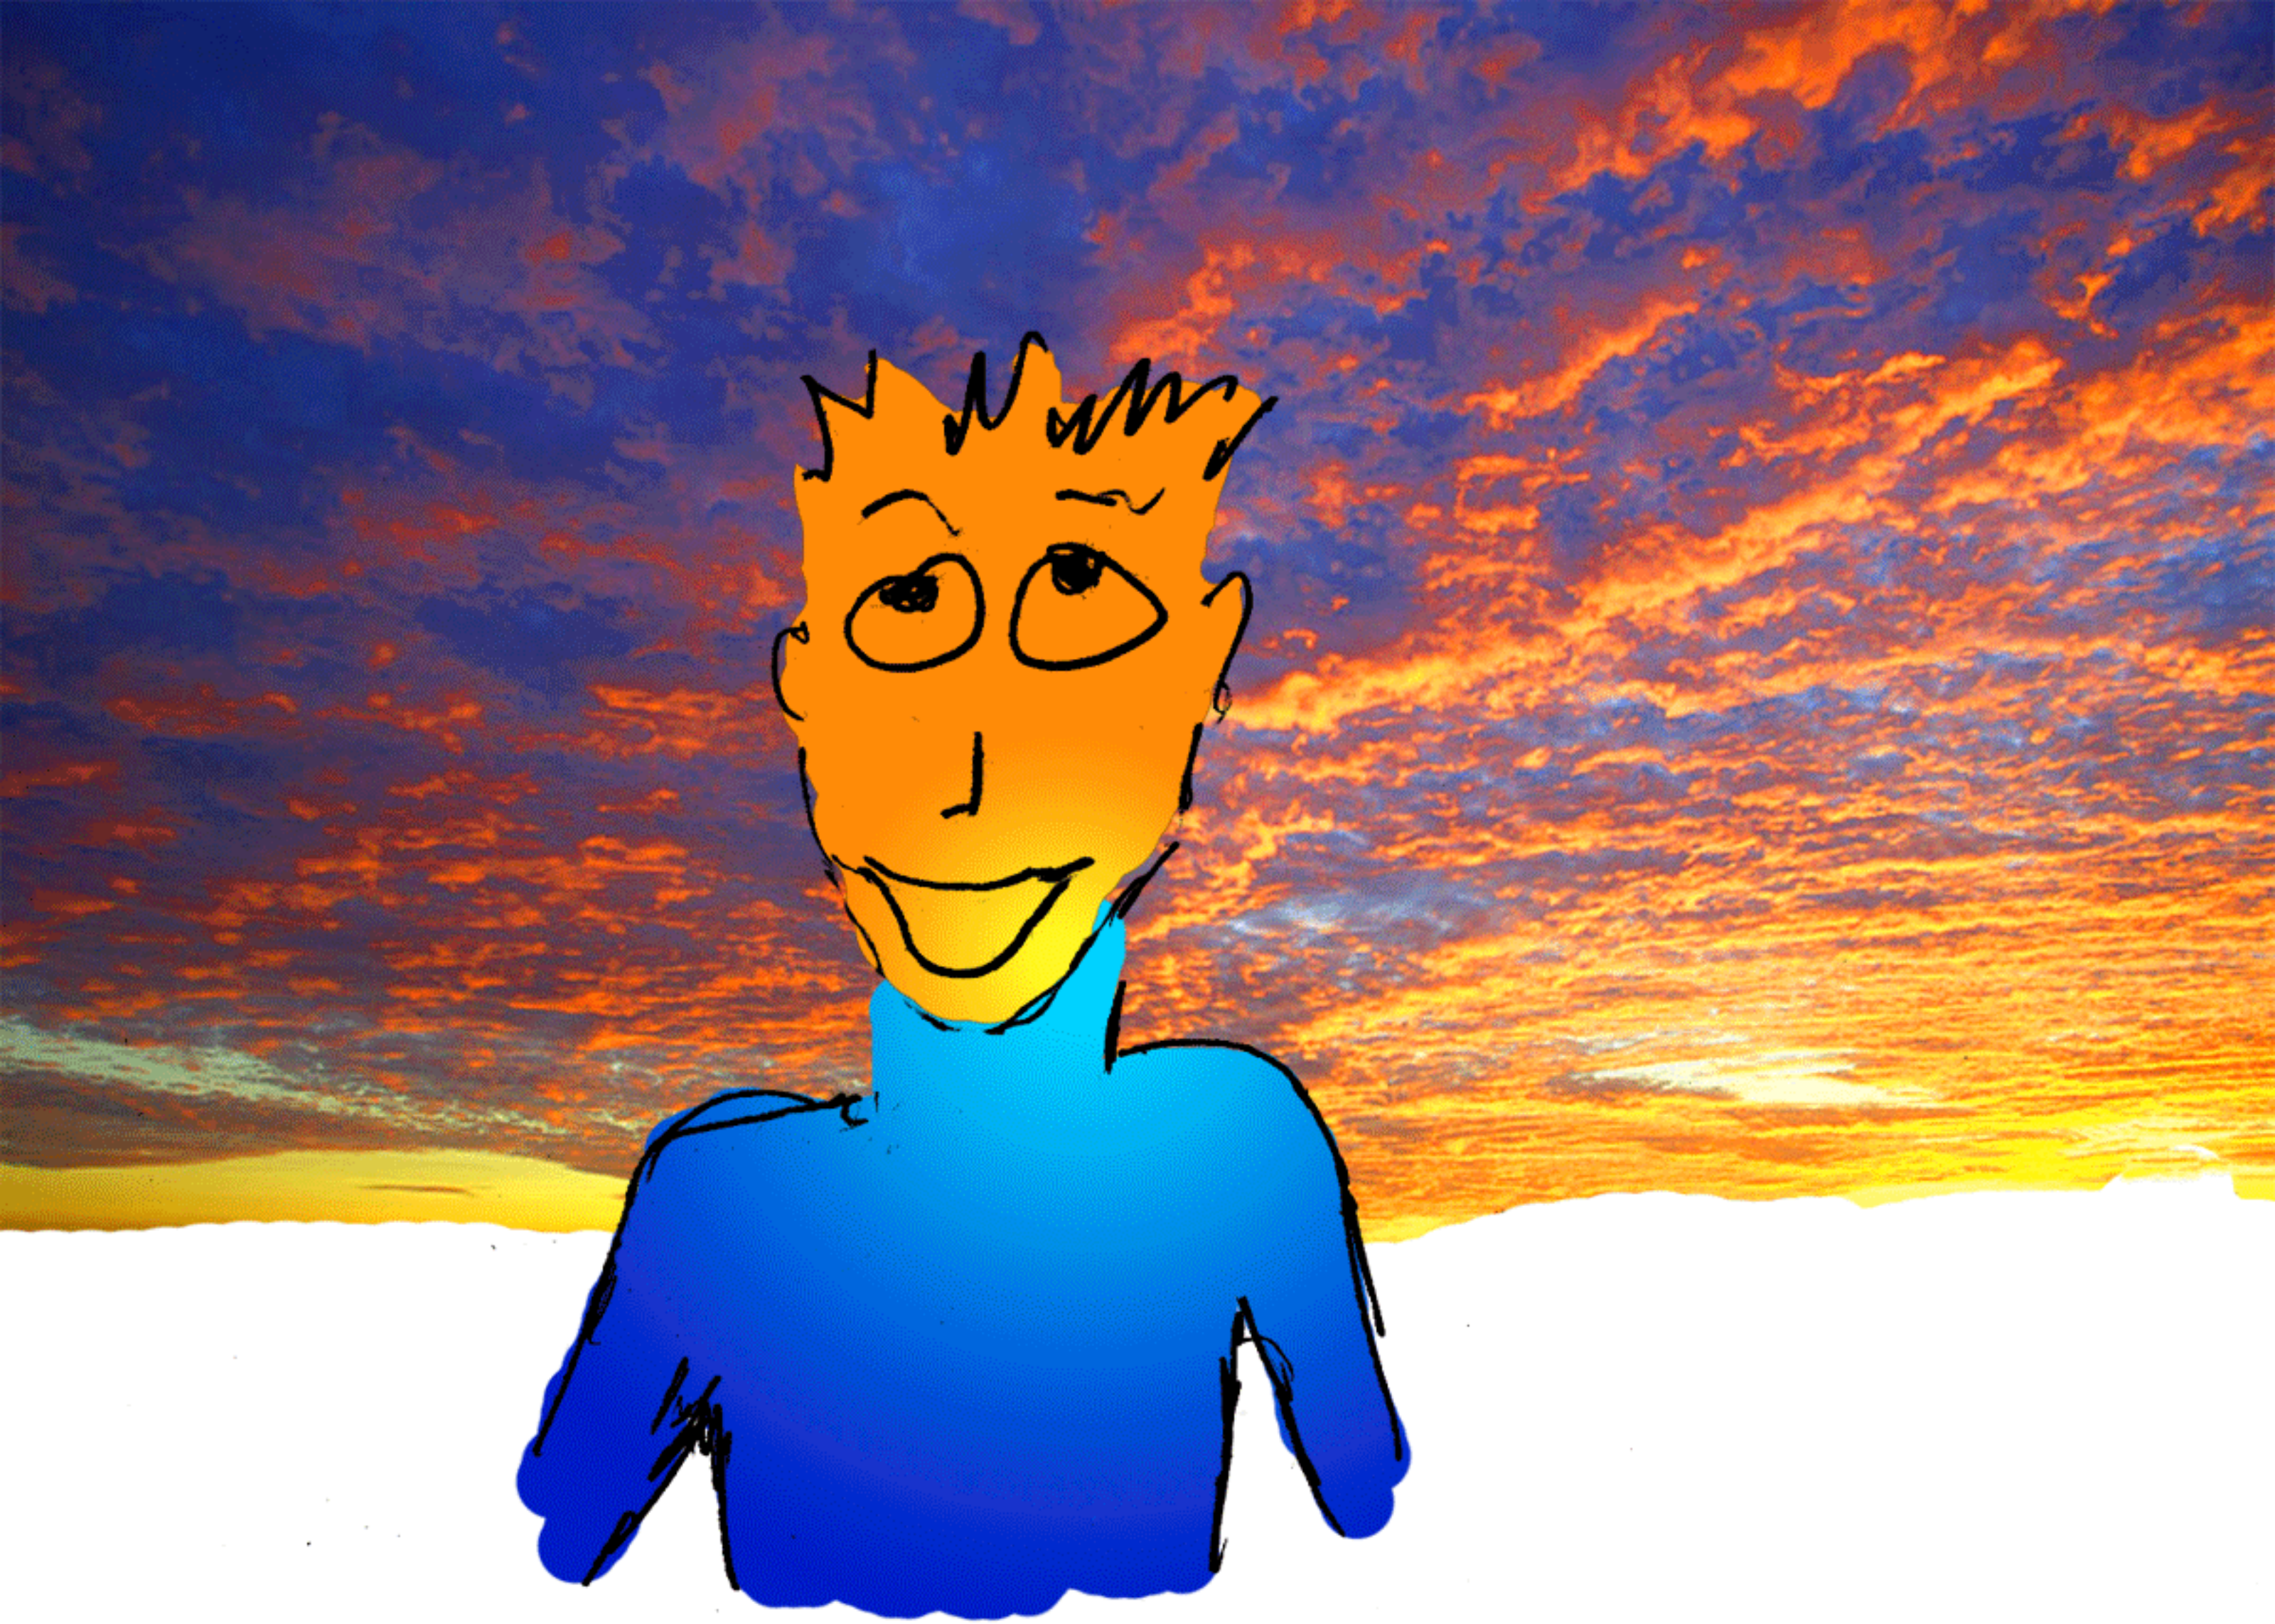

Play an air guitar.

IF

you're feeling blue...

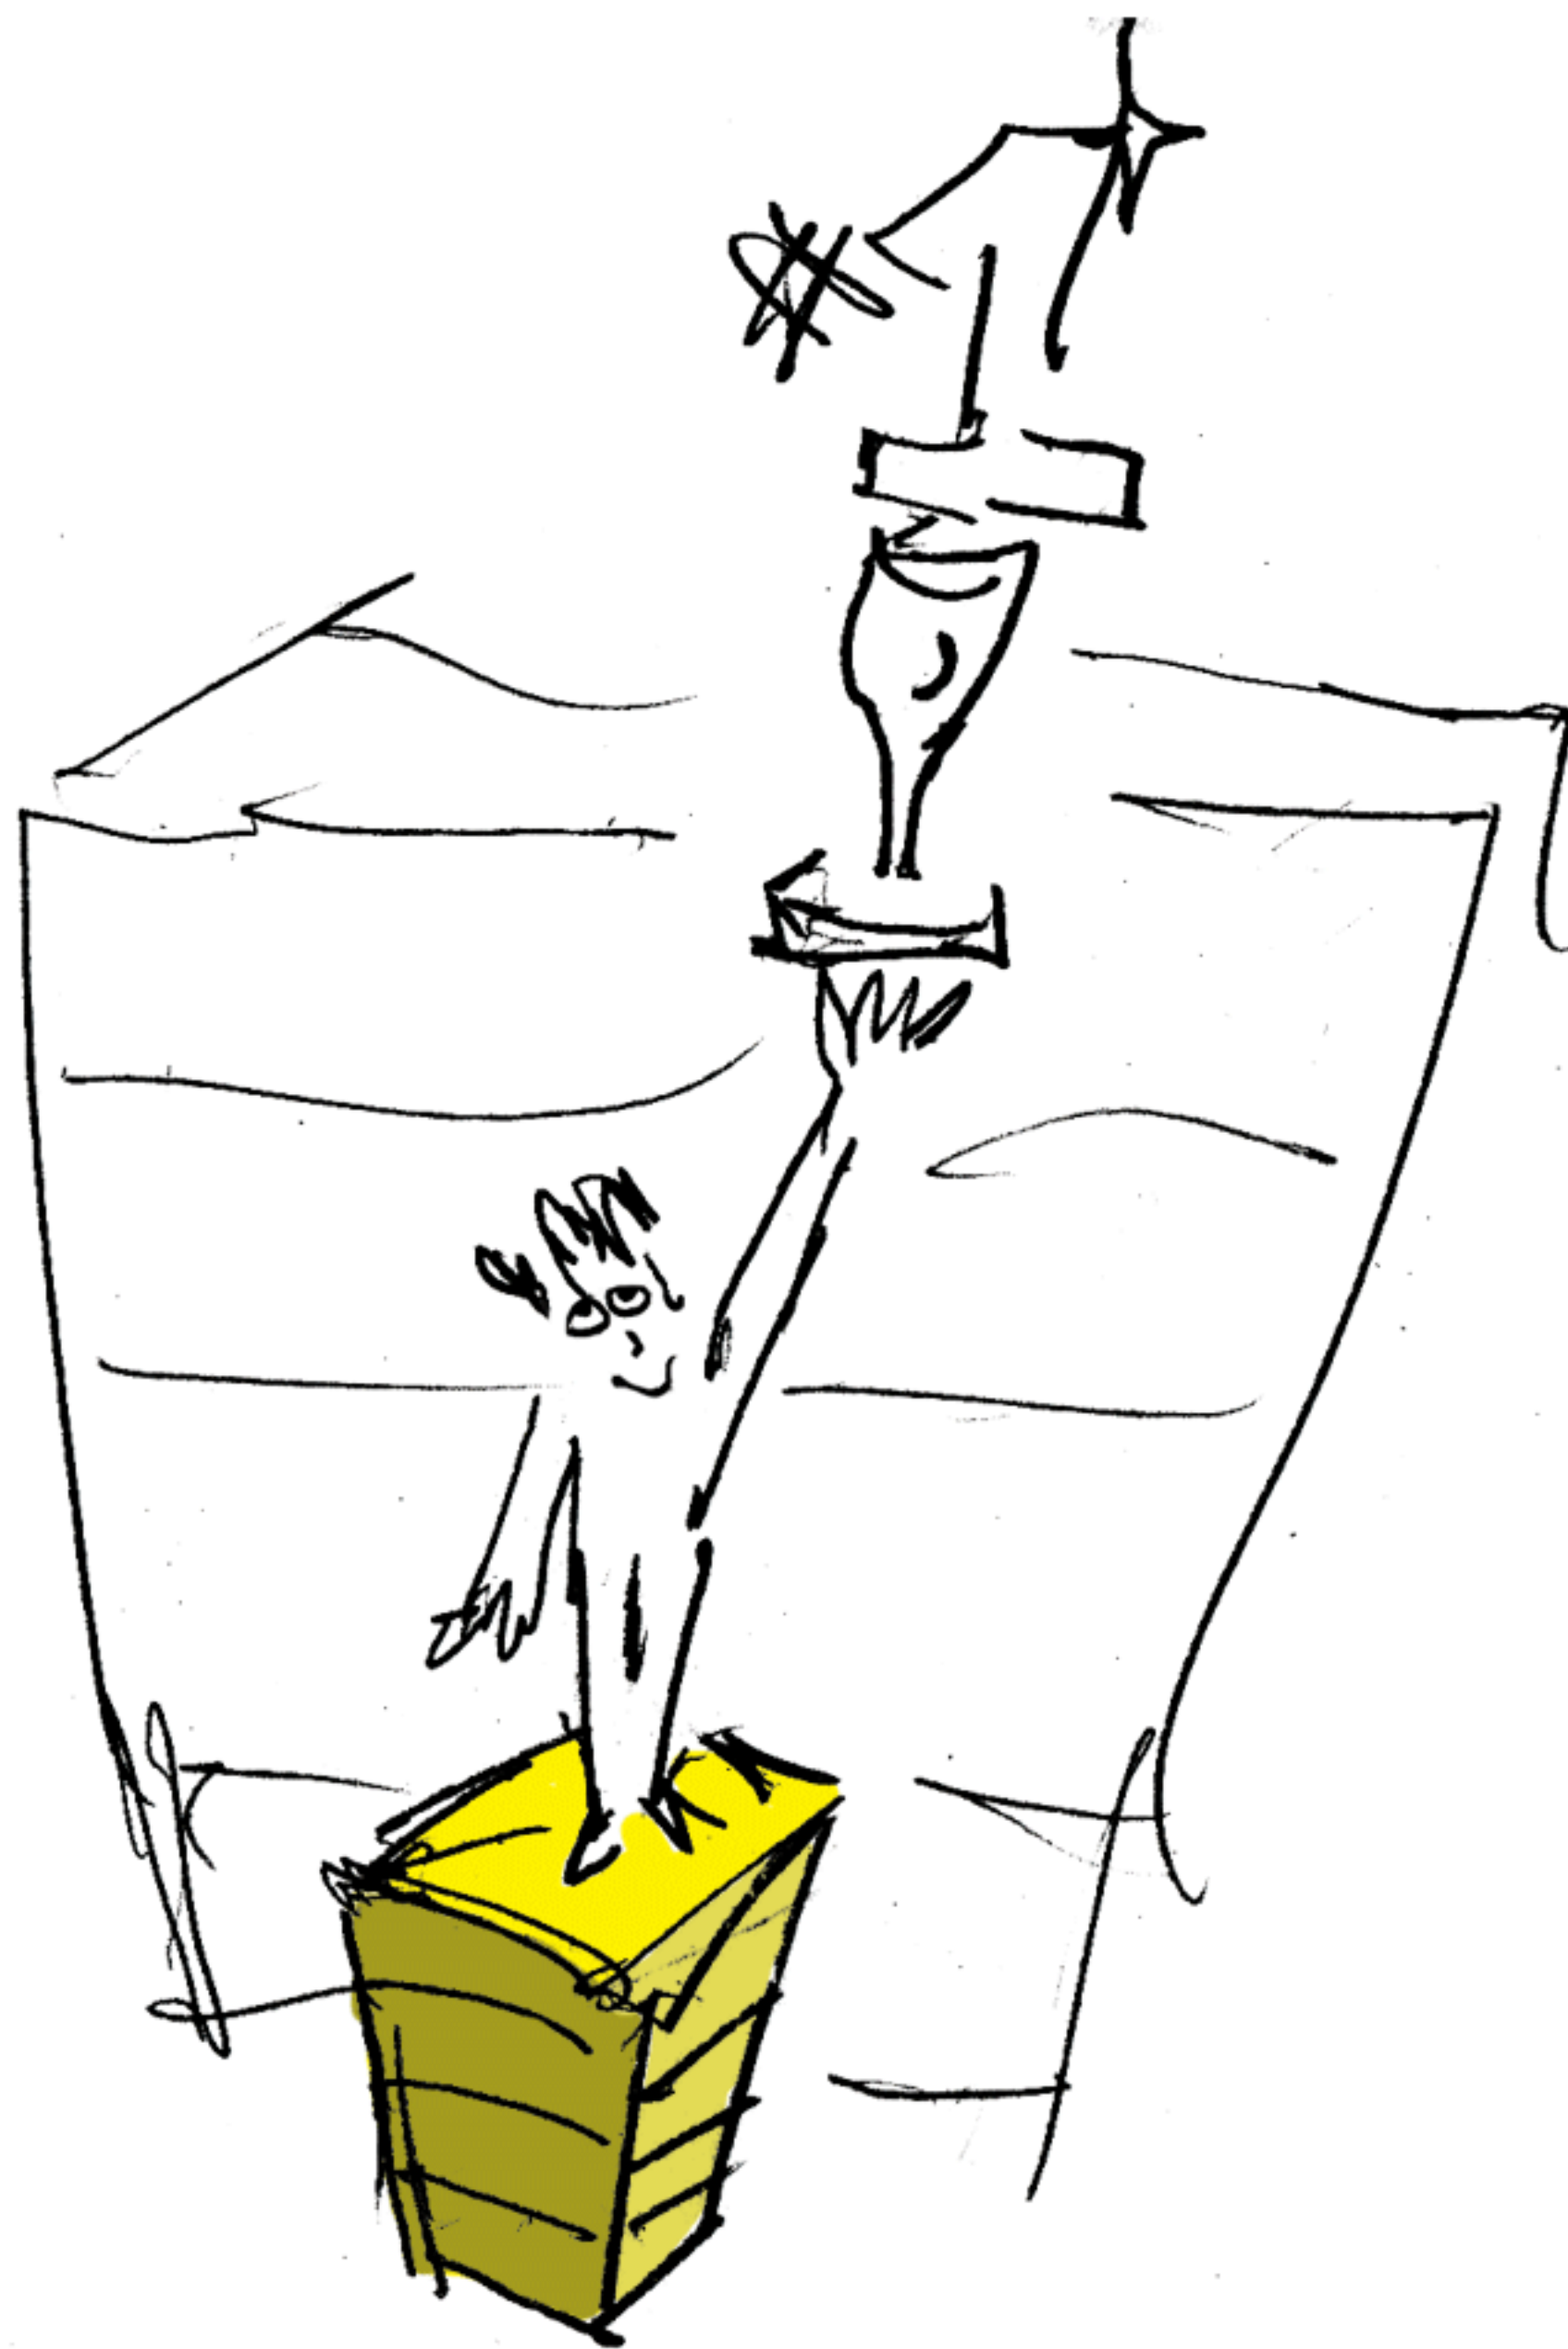

Paint your face orange
and pretend you're a sunset.

IF

you fall short of your goals...

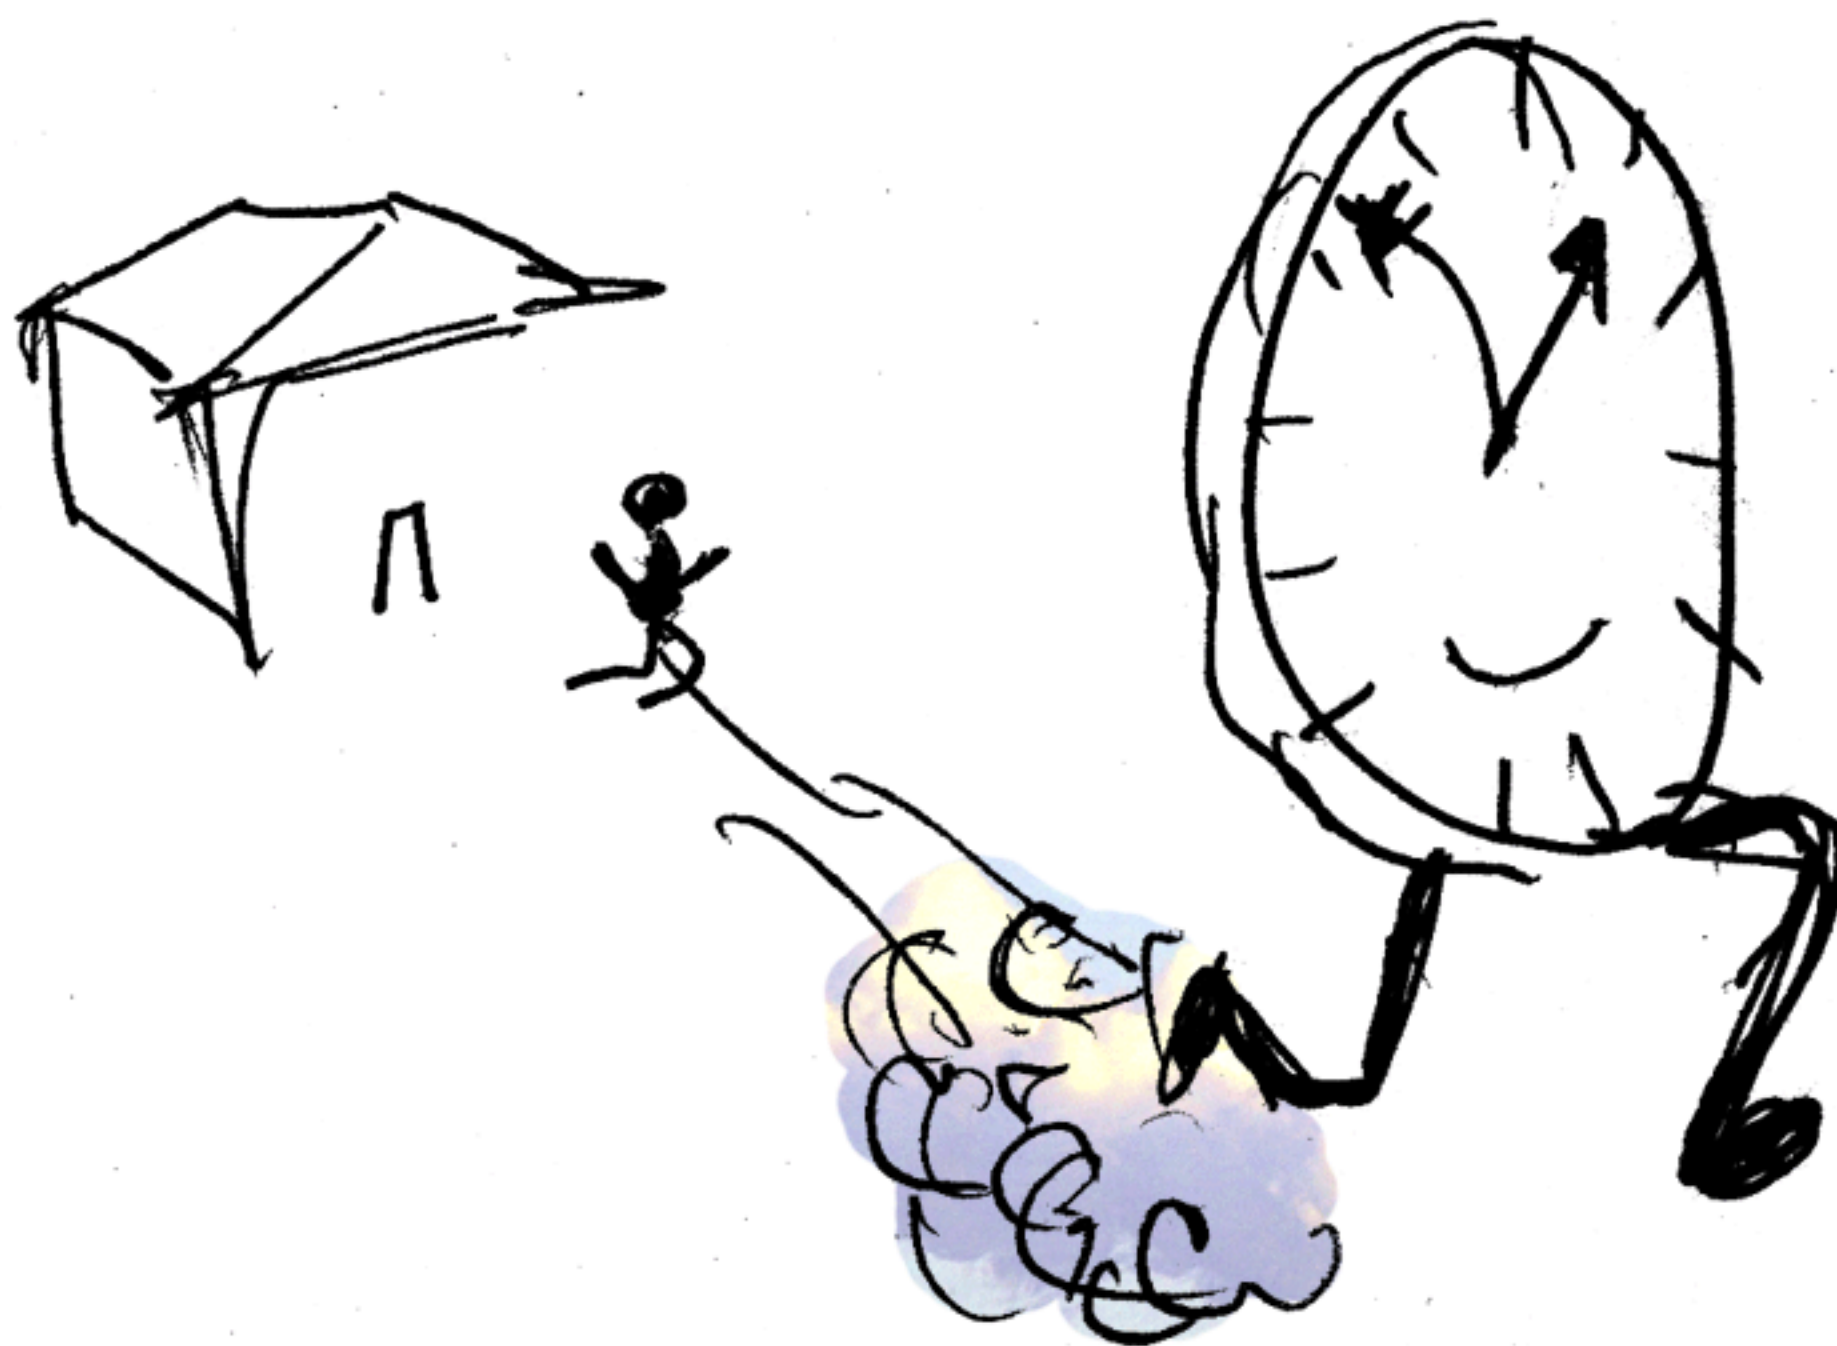

Stand on phone books.

IF

time runs out...

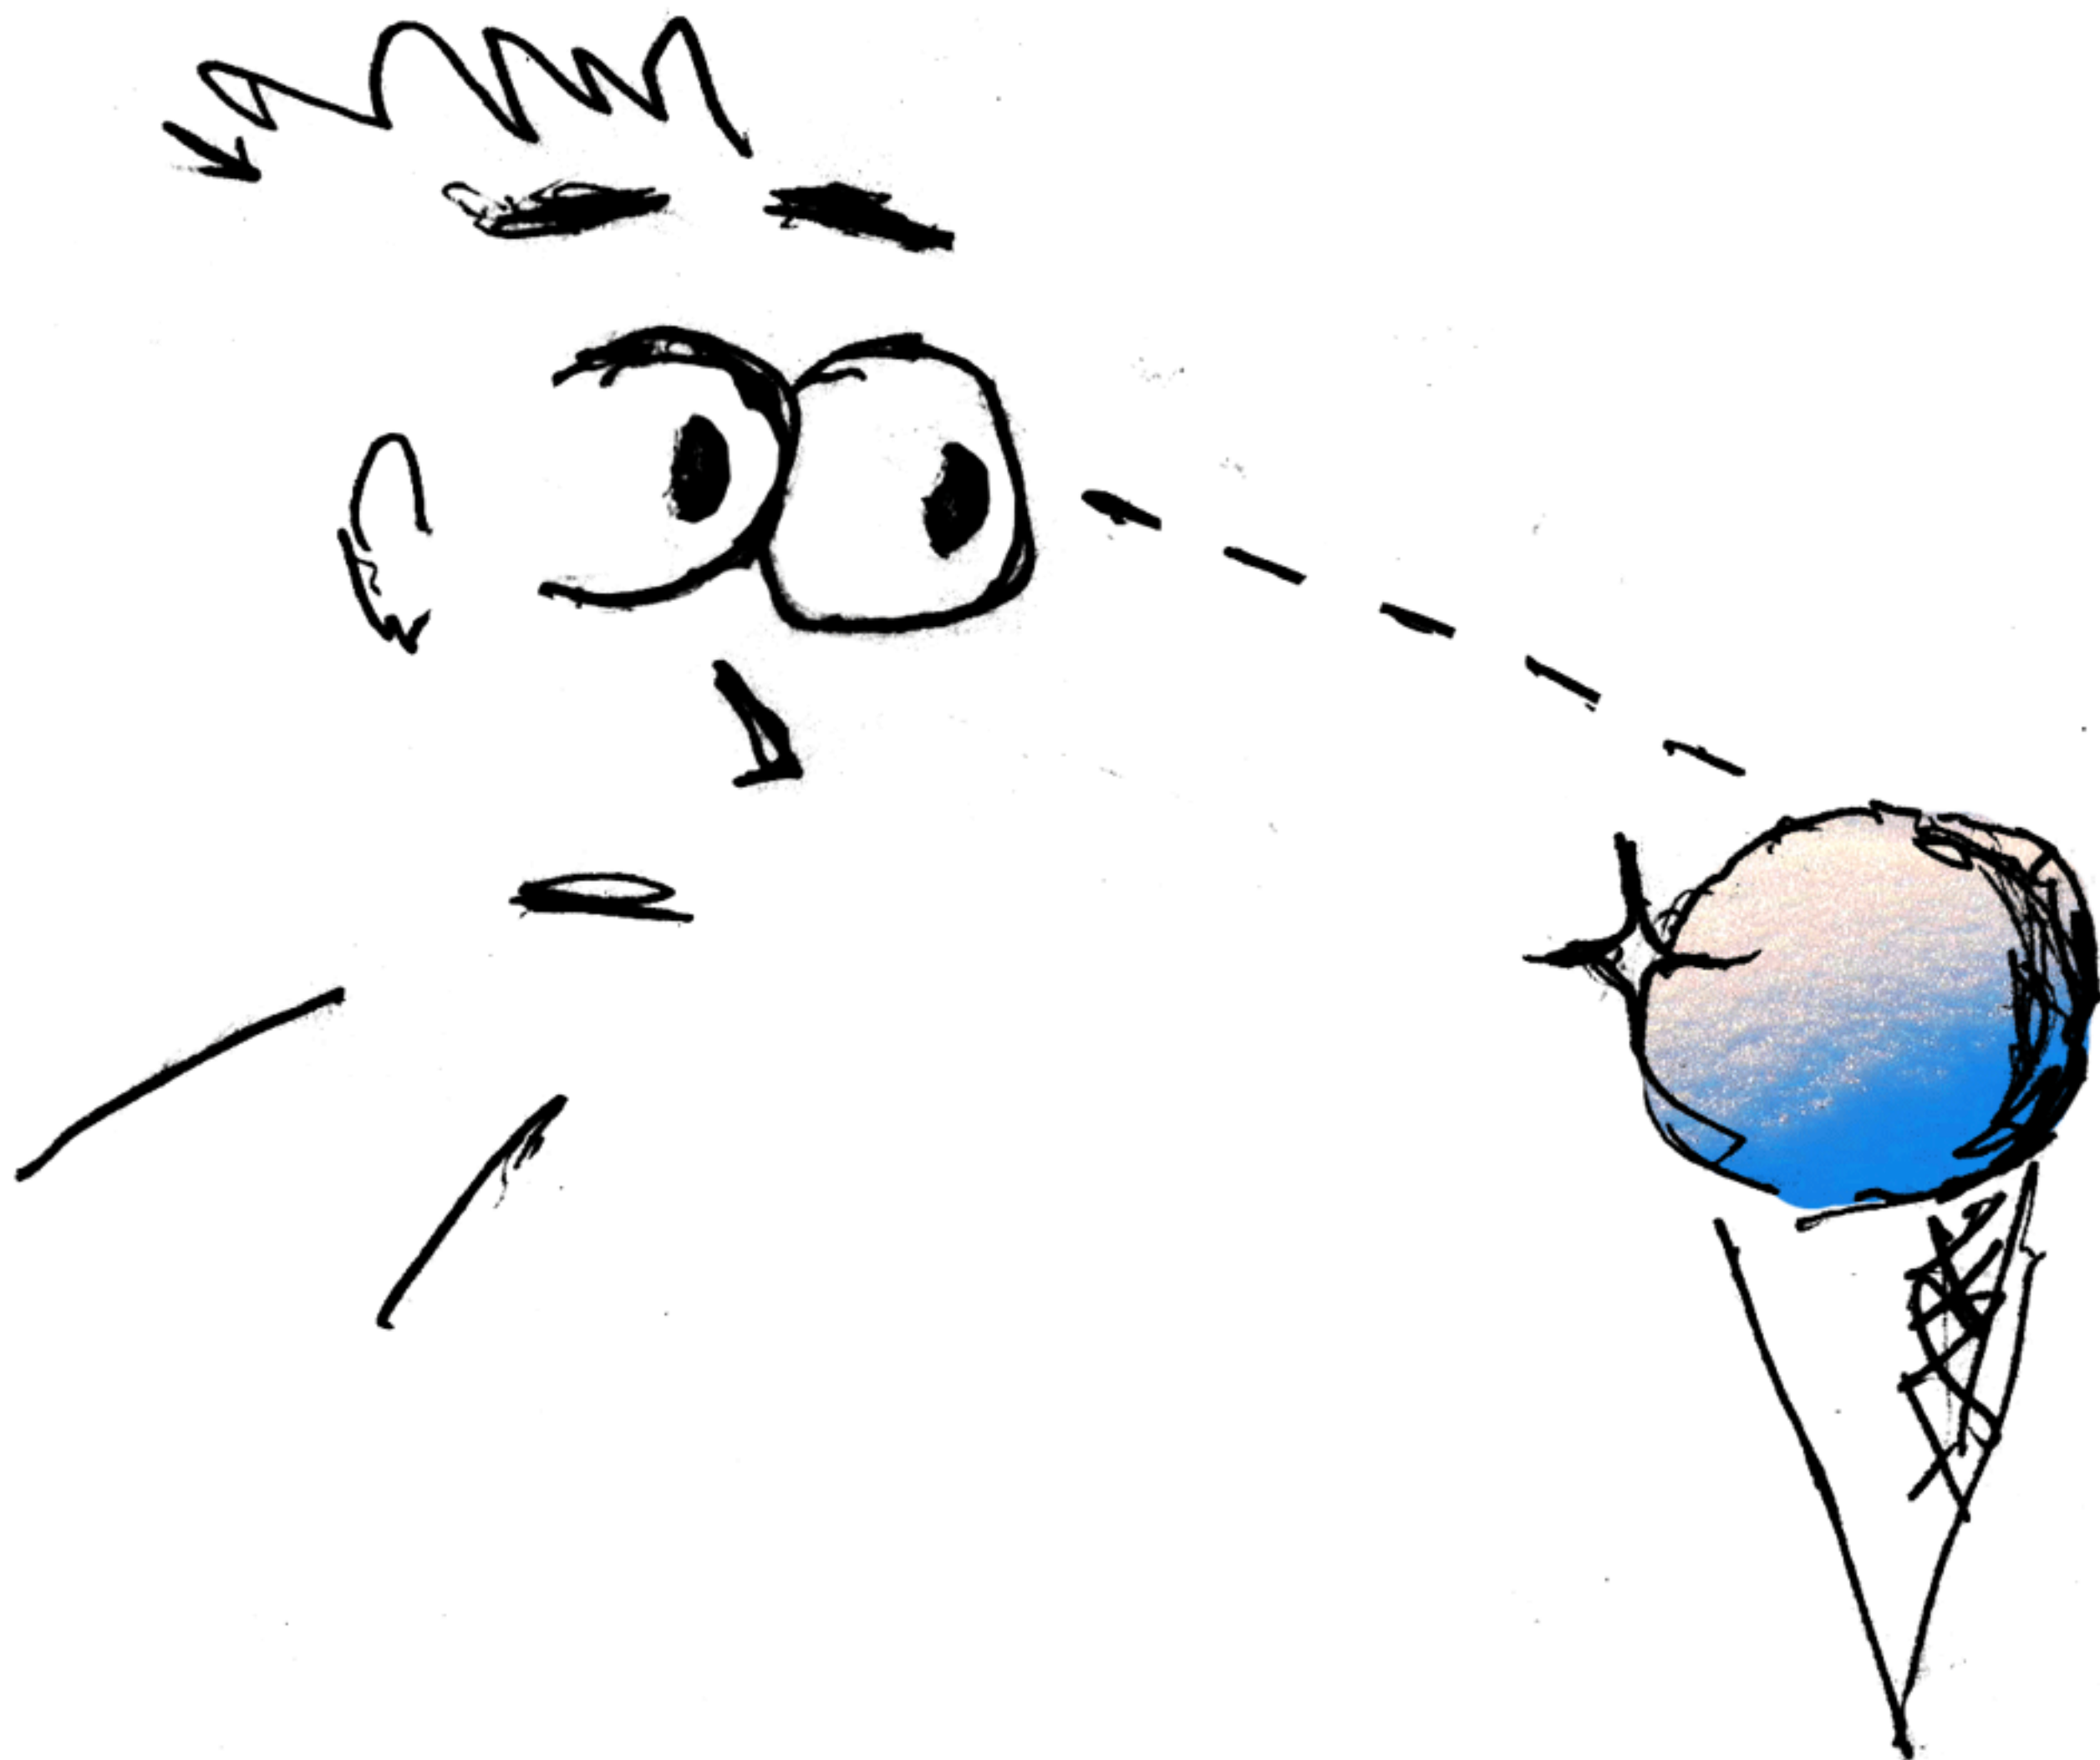

Chase him down in your racecar

IF your icecream melts...

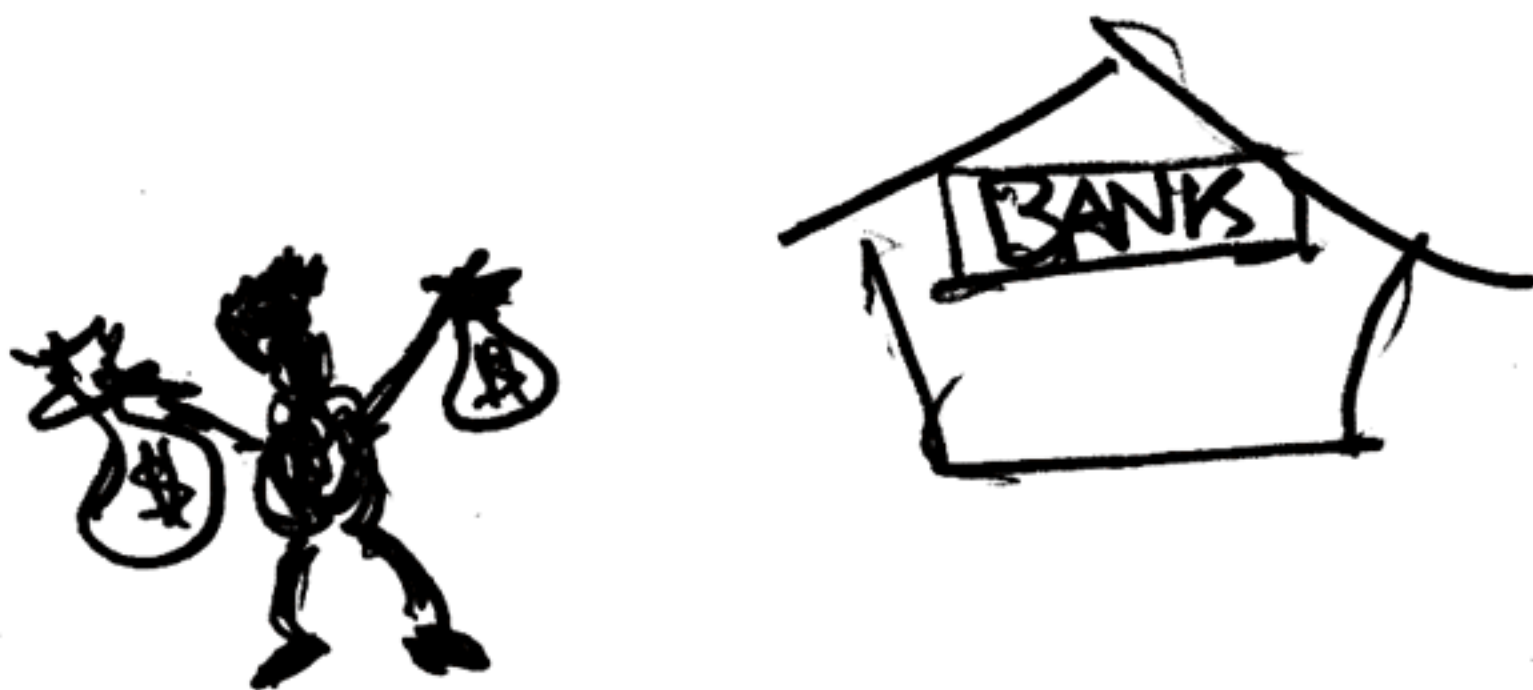

Freeze it with a cold stare.

IF you lose all your senses

Trade in your nickles for pennies.

IF the stars refuse to shine...

Find the needle in the haystack and poke holes in the clouds.

IF

grass stains turn your clothes green...

Dance with leprechauns.

IF

you burn your toast...

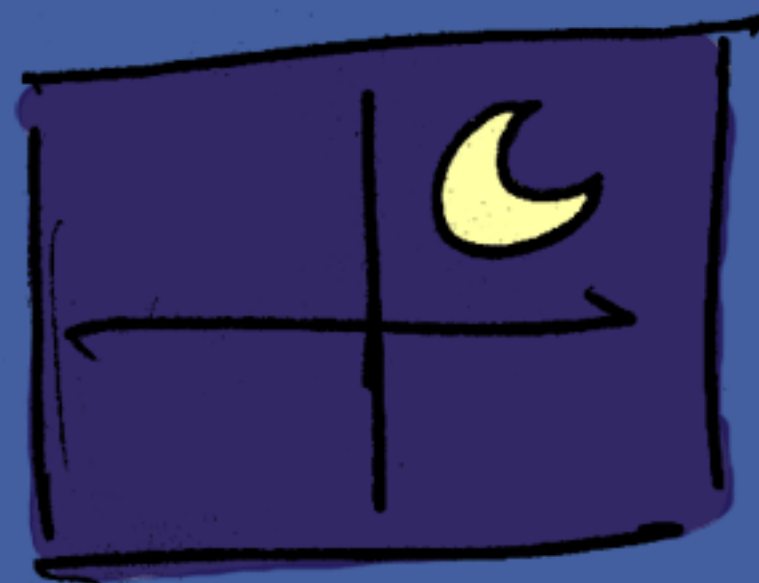

Play ping pong with an eggshell

IF

the lights go out...

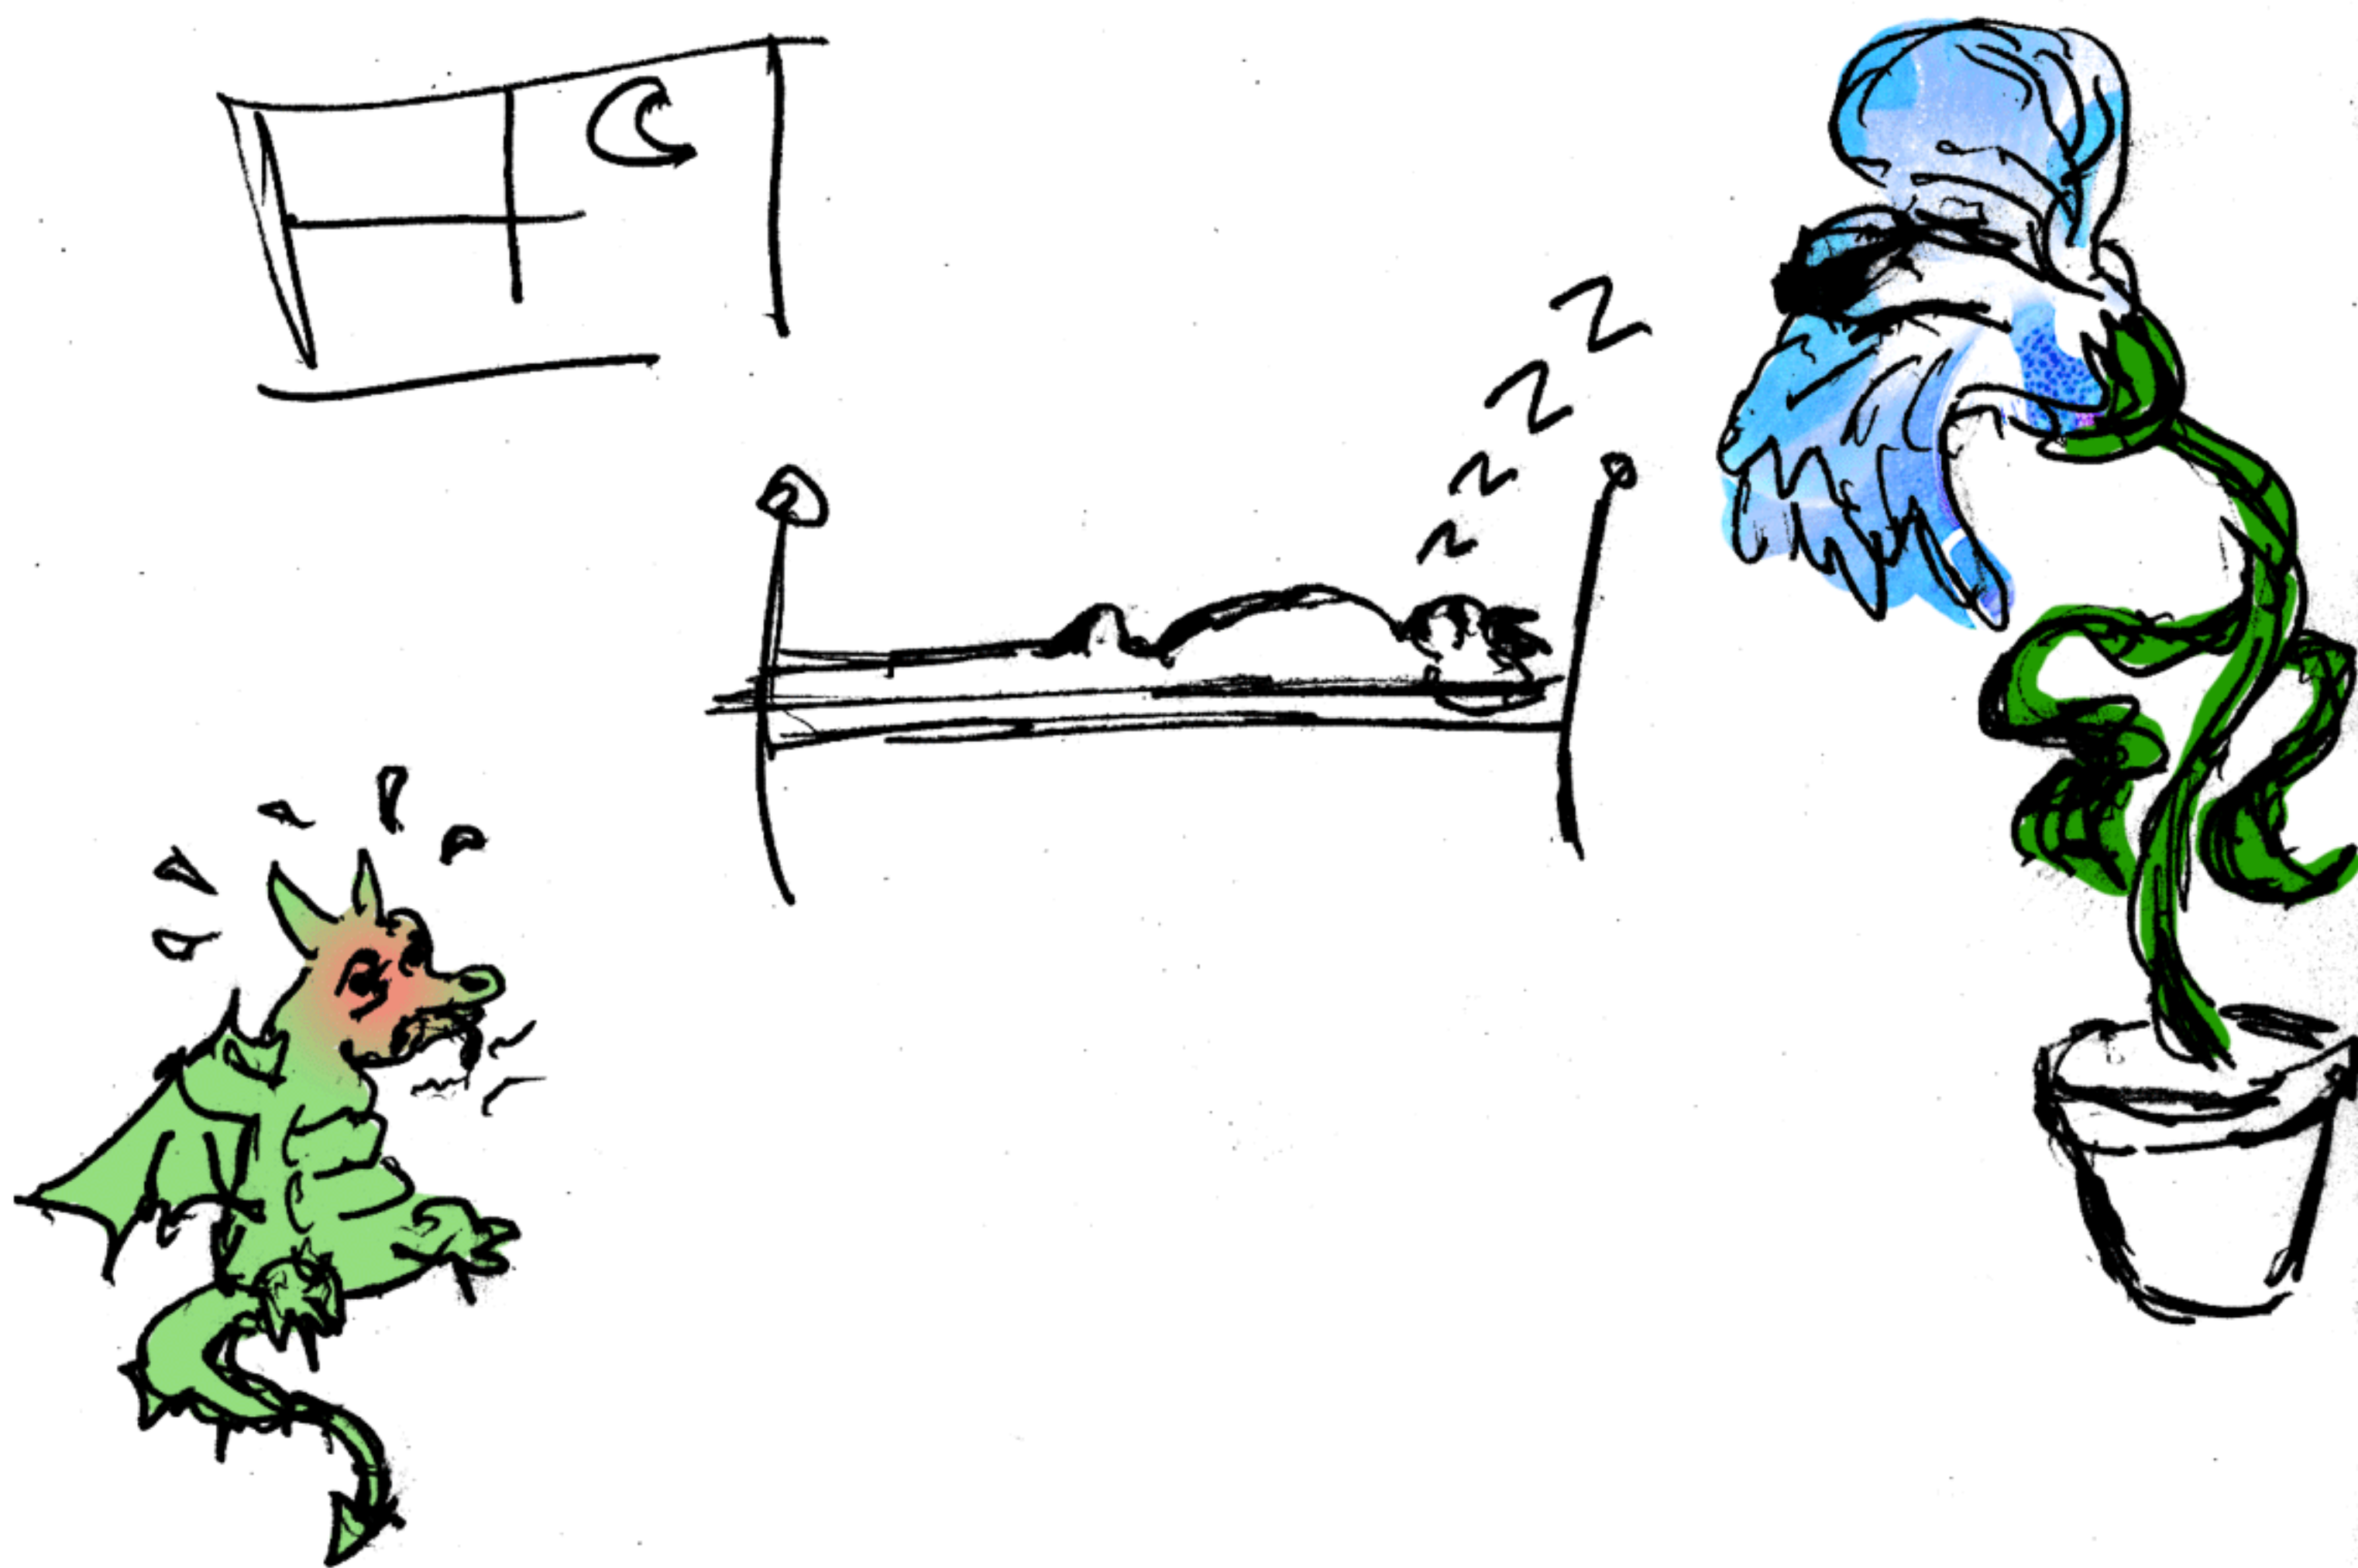

Invite fireflies to the party.

IF

there's a scary monster
under your bed...

Hire a snapdragon to protect you.

IF

the deck on your boat gives out...

Rebuild it with moonbeams.
